Defends Tax Bill Relief

President Declares Administration's New Measure Gives Fair Treatment to All

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that congressional Democrats are in error in contending that the administration's new tax bill does not give a fair share of relief to those in the lower income brackets. He commented at a news conference as the House headed into a battle over a Democratic drive for new income tax cuts for everybody.

Noting that some Democrats have attacked the administration's bill as aimed primarily at helping big business, Eisenhower said he wanted to cite U. S. Steel as an example of big business.

He said that U. S. Steel employs about 300,000 men and has about 300,000 stockholders.

Of the shareholders he said 56 per cent have annual incomes of less than $5,000 a year. He added that 46 per cent of the stockholders make less than the average steel worker's wage of $4,500 a year.

There are more stockholders in the $2,000 to $3,000 annual income class than in any other category, he said.

The administration bill would exempt the first $50 yearly in dividend income from stocks in the next year and increase that exemption to $100 subsequently. It also would allow the first 5 per cent of dividend income to be subtracted from any citizen's tax bill the first year and 10 per cent thereafter.

The President said that to say that the administration bill is designed to help the rich people is—and he paused dramatically—an error. The reporters laughed at his obvious sudden restraint.

Eisenhower was asked if he would veto the tax bill if Democrats succeed in writing into it a provision raising the personal exemption from the present level of $600 to $700.

The President said he could not say in advance what bills he would veto. He noted that he has no authority to strike out individual items in a bill.

But he said that if any bill presents an impossible situation to the country then he has got to sit down and decide what to do.

He said some of those who are the strongest advocates of tax reduction now include the very ones who said recently that they would not support an increase in the 173 billion statutory debt limit.

This shaft obviously was directed at Sen. George (D-Ga.), who has offered one of the tax reduction proposals. George declined to go along earlier in the year with an administration proposal to increase the debt limit.

Up for debate was a giant, 875-page bill overhauling almost all tax laws and providing about $1,397,000,000 in revenue reductions the first year. The vote is scheduled tomorrow.

The overshadowing issue is a Democratic move to tack onto this a $100 increase in individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent—a further tax cut of $2,400,000,000 a year, strongly opposed by President Eisenhower.

Truman Is Chosen To Give Two Lectures At Westminster College

FULTON, Mo., (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman was named today as the John Findley Green Foundation lecturer at Westminster College here, April 12 and 13.

Mr. Truman will deliver two lectures, which are traditionally on international affairs.

It was eight years ago March 5, that Truman, then president, came here to introduce Winston Churchill, then leader of the opposition party in Great Britain. Churchill's Green Foundation address on that occasion has been coined the "Iron Curtain" speech. It was the first in which an important world political figure opened warning of the dangers of Soviet aggression.

School Board to Meet

The Pettis county school board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the office of C. F. Scotten, superintendent of schools, on the second floor of the Courthouse.

Begorrah, It's Nice

Sure and begorrah, St. Pat has a fine day here, a fine day indeed! This was the kind of day that will mean the Earth will be "wearin' o' the green" shortly.

Partly cloudy, windy and mild tonight and Thursday. Low tonight near 45. High Thursday in the 60s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 42; 57 at 1 p. m., and 59 at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 65, low 44. Two years ago high 60, low 34. Three years ago high 53, low 35, rainfall .81 inch.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 43.9, rise 4.

$14,000 More In Bonds Is Needed--

Knob Noster Citizens Meeting Tonight to Discuss Sewers

The City of Knob Noster is holding a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the American Legion hall in Knob Noster to discuss a proposal for a bond election for an additional $14,000 to meet the bid on the construction of the sewer treatment plant. The meeting has been called by Mayor O'Bannon Marshall for the purpose of discussing the issue and getting the reaction of the citizens of the town.

Tuesday night the City Council of Knob Noster met with Milton Luce Jr., bondsman; B. L. Oliver, consulting engineer on the sewer system project, and bidders. At this meeting the low bid of $50,254 of Riley and Stiers, St. Louis, was accepted and the contract awarded to the firm, pending the city voting the additional $14,000 in bonds.

House Passes Hike In State Hay Money

Only One Member, From Daviess Co., Votes Opposition

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a $2,750,000 increase in the drought relief hay fund today.

The 125-1 vote came after no debate and only a single attempt at humor. Rep. Virgil Ray Johnston (R) of Daviess County was the only member who voted against the increase.

Several other members, however, did not vote. There were 632 members present on a roll call less than five minutes earlier.

The bill as passed by the House would raise the total for Missouri's drought relief hay program to $10,840,000. An earlier bill, already signed by the governor, took the $612 million ceiling off the fund, allowing full use of $1,604,000 in federal aid.

Just before the vote, Rep. Warren E. Hearnes (D) of Mississippi County said he wanted to express the gratitude of all the cows and bulls in the state. Then he held a toy noisemaker up to the public address microphone and a grateful "moo" bellowed through the chamber.

The quiet passage of the bill came only a few minutes after Rep. Noel G. Hughes (R) of Dade County offered a resolution asking for a state supported pasture re-seeding program.

His resolution said the continuing drought has ruined many pastures. Huge re-seeding programs will be necessary to bring many pastures back and the drought ridden farmers have little money for seed.

Hughes urged that Gov. Phil M. Donnelly broaden his special session call to allow the legislature to consider state aid for re-seeding. But he did not ask for immediate action on the resolution.

The House also passed a bill permitting an easement across a part of the state owned property at Higginsville, the old Confederate Soldiers' Home, so the Higginsville special road district can build a road there. It also now goes to the Senate.

After the brief St. Patrick's Day session of less than an hour the House adjourned until next Monday afternoon.

House Elections Group Looking Into Smith's Past

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The House elections committee last night took over the question whether Coleman R. Smith's past will have a substantial effect on his future.

Smith, apparently the winner in the Feb. 16 special election for representative from Sullivan County, is a Democrat. His Republican opponent, Mrs. Ruth R. Fisher of Osage, questioned his right to public office because back in his youth Smith was convicted of stealing timber and sentenced to two years in Alcoa Intermediate Reformatory.

Now he is an automobile dealer in Milan.

At the hearing Mrs. Fisher, widow of the former representative from the north Missouri county, and her attorney said Missouri law prevented Smith from taking any public office because his civil rights never had been returned.

Smith's attorneys, on the other hand, argued that conviction and sentence to Alcoa did not strip a man of his civil rights. He would have had to be sentenced to the penitentiary itself before he would lose those rights.

Late News

11 Israelis Killed by Arabs
JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — An official Israeli source said 11 Israelis, including several children and two soldiers, were killed in a bus attacked by a group of Arabs today.

Two soldiers and two women were reported to have survived. The informant said the bus was traveling from Elath to Beerseba, in the Negev desert.

French Beating Vietminh

Rebel Artillery Opens New Attack In 5-Day Battle For Strategic Plain

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — French Union defenders of Dien Bien Phu, scything down attack after attack, appeared today to be well on the road to a big victory over the Communist-led Vietminh.

Rebel artillery opened another bombardment in the five-day battle for the strategic plain in the mountains of northwest Indochina and it may be the prelude to another mass infantry attack tonight. Key French positions were the targets of 105 and 75 millimeter guns.

But American-supplied French guns responded shot for shot and the mass attacks so far—according to a conservative French army estimate—have cost the rebels 2,000 killed. Along with those killed, it is estimated 5,000 have been wounded.

That makes 12,000 men out of action—the strength of a Vietminh division—and about a fourth of the total forces Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap has committed to the battle.

The garrison—Frenchmen, Foreign Legionnaires, Algerians, Moroccan Vietnamese and friendly tribesmen—were outnumbered 4-to-1 at the outset Friday. It has suffered losses described as appreciable, but is receiving reinforcements by air.

It is too early to say the victory has been won. But, barring an unforeseen assault ending disaster for the French, there was more than a good chance that the Vietminh were not going to succeed in smashing this French stronghold in the Thai tribal country at the border of Viet Nam and Laos.

Dien Bien Phu means "border area." It is not much as a town—just scattered collections of straw-thatched huts—that are taking a beating in the gunfire.

The French took advantage of a momentary enemy withdrawal to parachute in a fresh battalion of reinforcements. Tanks and infantry sallied forth from unthreatened defense positions to counterattack the enemy in encircling movements.

The French said the Vietminh continued to suffer heavy losses. Dien Bien Phu braced for a possible all-out rebel drive to overrun the fortress by sheer weight of numbers.

The rebels, badly mauled after four days of suicidal attempts to take the 4-by-6 mile plain, its command post and two air strips, pulled back momentarily in a heavy rain yesterday after driving to within half a mile of the fortress. Then they resumed their assaults from the hills ringing the plain.

French fighters and bombers poured rockets, thousand-pound bombs and machine-gun fire into enemy positions surrounding the fortress.

The French expressed complete confidence they could continue to hurl back with withering curtains of heavy firepower from American-supplied guns the wave after wave of screaming rebels sent into the biggest battle of the seven-year-old Indochina war.

The French gave no figures of their own casualties, but said their losses have been "appreciable."

For the Vietminh, the moment of decision seemed near. To win a decisive victory, it appeared the rebel commander in chief, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, might throw in all of what's left of the 36,000 to 48,000 troops he was credited with having around Dien Bien Phu for one massive assault on the fortress.

Government Dismisses Five-Year-Old Suit To Scatter Meat Firms

CHICAGO (AP) — The government today dismissed its 5-year-old anti-trust suit seeking a breakup of four large meat packing firms into 14 small units.

Reports that the civil action would be dropped were published Sunday.

Today a stipulation by federal and defense counsel dismissing the suit "without prejudice" was filed in U. S. District Court.

Defendants were Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., and the Cudahy Packing Co.

St. Patrick's Day Comes On Election Eve But Irish Drop Politics for Shamrocks

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — St. Patrick's Day came to the Irish Republic today on the brink of a general election—but the politically minded Irish who like to be different forgot politics.

It's an old Irish custom to bury the political hatchet on the national holiday.

Even that old fighter for Irish freedom, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera, was away in London for the "blessing of the shamrock" among the British who once condemned him to death.

And any Irishman who has adopted it up in South Boston or along New York's Third Avenue would get almost homesick for the March 17 among the Irish-Americans.

There's no "drowning the shamrock" here. All bars are closed on St. Patrick's Day.

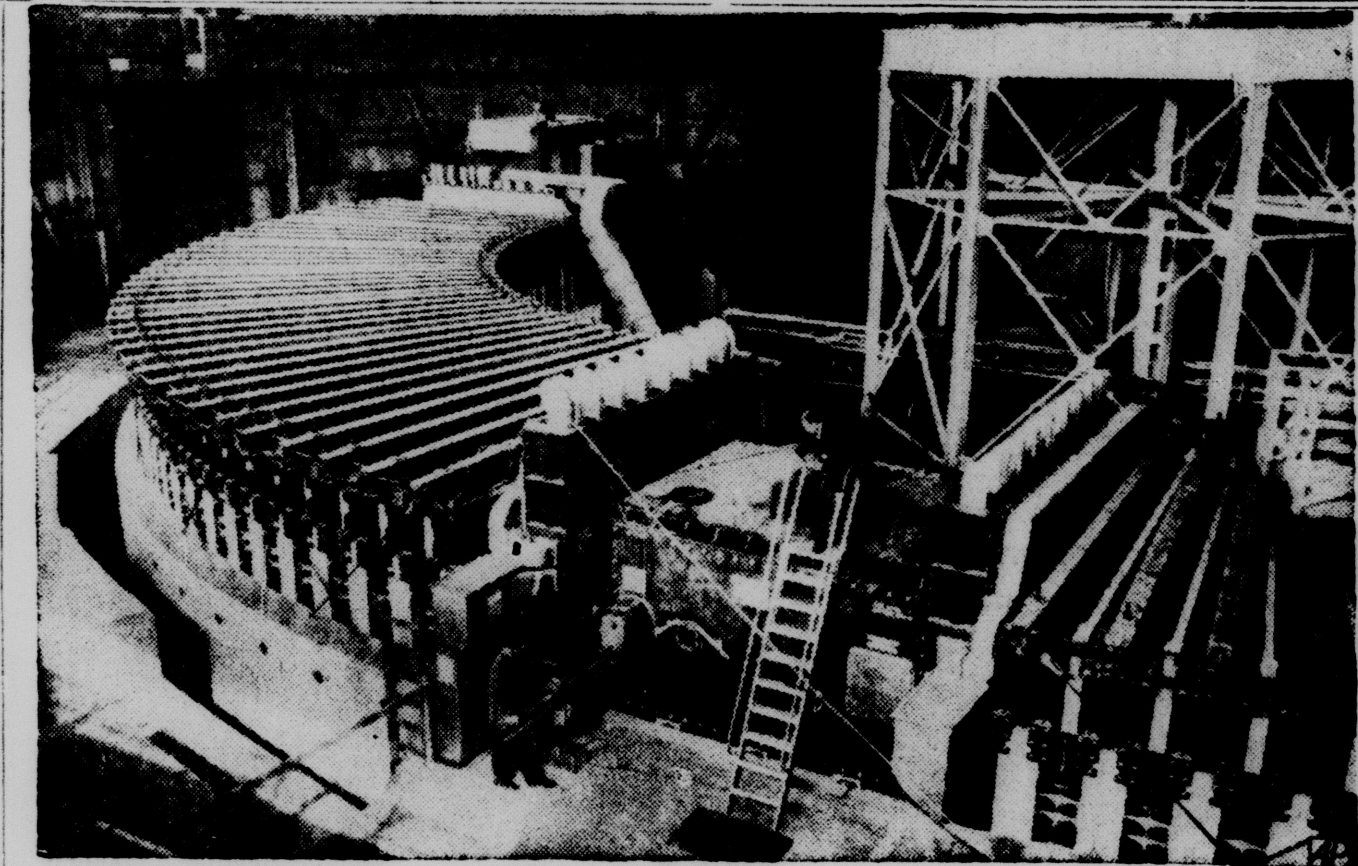

And for uttering a begorrah it's the back of the hand to you—comedian stuff in the new Ireland and frowned upon.

The Emerald Isle of many farms celebrates instead with a parade showing off tremendous strides in industrial development.

Few politicians even get in the marching.

Some preliminary campaign blasts have been fired for the election set for May 18.

De Valera—still a formidable campaigner even though 71 and nearly blind—decided to go to the people after his Fianna Fail party suffered setbacks in special elec-

Senate Okays Hiway Safety Survey Group

Hour-Long Squabble Precedes 26-5 Vote; Bill Goes to House

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill to set up a highway safety survey committee was passed by the Senate today but only after an hour-long squabble.

The vote sending it to the House was 26-5 with five Republicans voting against it. They said they thought a new study of traffic safety was unnecessary.

A special safety commission was requested by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly despite numerous requests he recommend immediate passage of a speed limit law. He indicated the state wasn't ready for that.

One of the senators who had asked him to make a speed limit law the business of the current special session was Sen. Clayton Allen (R) of Rockport. But Allen said today he thought the survey would be a good thing if it helped at all to stop carnage on the highways.

Opposition to the measure was led by Sen. R. Jasper Smith (R) of Springfield, who said he saw "no earthly reason" to embark on a new study of traffic safety when all the facts are available now.

"For the life of me I can't see what there is for such a committee to do except spend money unnecessarily," Smith said.

Four Republicans joined him in voting against the administration bill—Noel Cox of Spokane, Charles Dickson of Milan, Meredith Gatten of Pierce City and C. R. Hawkins of Brumley.

Sen. W. H. Robinson (R) of Mountain Grove disagreed sharply with Smith. He said the bloodiest sector of any highway in the country is U. S. 66—"Bloody 66"—from Lebanon to Rolla and that anything to hurry the enactment of a speed limit was a good thing.

"The highways ooze and drip with blood," he shouted. "The ghastly hands of a million shrouded death beseech us to do something. There is stark murder in the land and we sit idly by and do nothing."

The Senate's criminal law revision committee started a study of a speed limit law in January but Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau, the chairman, said the committee called a halt on the work after the governor recommended a special survey committee.

As passed today, the bipartisan survey committee would include four senators, four representatives and four appointees of the governor. They would study all phases of highway safety, including zoning and other problems as well as speed, and report to the 1955 legislature next February.

Pope Is Slowly, Steadily Improving

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII's improvement from his long illness continues slowly but steadily, his private physician was noted today.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said the physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, declared "Disquieting, acute, symptoms" of the ailment, "thanks be to God, have disappeared."

Defense attorneys objected when government attorneys attempted to read portions of the Manifesto allegedly underlined by Forest. Their demand for the original copy was upheld by U. S. Dist. Judge Roy W. Harper.

Scarletto said Forest gave him the copy while he was an FBI undercover agent as a member of the Communist Party in California.

Another ex-undercover agent for the FBI, Samuel D. Russell, 35 of Los Angeles, testified under cross-examination that he kept carbon copies of reports he filed to the FBI while a member of the party despite instructions not to do so.

Russell earlier testified Forest's wife, Dorothy Rose Forest, also a defendant, discovered the copies in his home in 1947 and told him he no longer was a party member.

The other defendants are William Sentner, Marcus Murphy and Robert Manewitz. All are charged with conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Doctors Honoring 2 Local Medics After 50 Years

Several noted physicians and surgeons are arriving for the testimonial dinner this evening at the Old Missouri Homestead, honoring 50 years of medical practice by two Sedalia physicians, Dr. D. P. Dyer and Dr. A. J. Campbell.

The chief speakers will be Dr. Roland Kieffer, St. Louis, chief surgeon for the MKT, and Dr. Pinseal Neal, head of the pathology department at the University of Missouri.

Among the distinguished and noted doctors to be present is Dr. Will Hudson, Detroit, who flew to the Sedalia Air Force Base and was met this afternoon there by a number of Sedalia physicians.

Dr. Hudson was a graduate of the old Sedalia High School and after coming here from Arkansas took his first employment as a janitor in the jewelry store of the late Charles H. Bard, that job being secured for him through Dr. Dyer.

He is rated as a noted chest surgeon and presently is engaged in research as to cancer of the lungs, especially as to any possible relation with use of cigarettes.

The dinner is sponsored by the medical profession in Pettis, Henry and Saline Counties.

Rush and Hustle For Variety, Style Show This Week

The Variety and Style Show will be held Thursday and Friday nights at the Smith-Cotton auditorium. Members of the S-C PTA, the sponsors, Smith-Cotton students, who will put on the program, and faculty members in charge, along with local merchants and those who will model are all in a state of confusion as they always are this time of year trying to get ready for the big show.

With the theme for the variety being "Roberta," and an array of really good looking spring clothes, this promises to be tops in the show's long history of entertainment.

For two nights rehearsals have been going on and everybody is ready for the show, except a couple of youngsters who have the measles. It looks like two substitutes will have to be called in. The group of women who work every year take on this job and work like mad for several weeks, then the nights of the show they keep their fingers crossed and hope they haven't forgotten anything and that everything goes smoothly.

Judge Upholds Protest Against FBI Testimony

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Testimony of a former FBI undercover agent was halted in the trial of five Communists here yesterday when defense attorneys objected to a photostatic copy of the Communist Manifesto entered as evidence by the government.

Daniel Scarletto, a 34-year-old Los Angeles carpenter, had identified the photostatic as a copy of the Manifesto given him by one of the defendants, James F. Forest.

Defense attorneys objected when government attorneys attempted to read portions of the Manifesto allegedly underlined by Forest. Their demand for the original copy was upheld by U. S. Dist. Judge Roy W. Harper.

Scarletto said Forest gave him the copy while he was an FBI undercover agent as a member of the Communist Party in California.

Ike Backing Secy. Stevens In Conflict

Expresses Confidence In Honor, Integrity Of Cabinet Member

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he has full confidence in the honor and integrity of Secretary of the Army Stevens and stands behind him.

His statement was in response to news conference questions about the controversy between Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

If he didn't have confidence in Stevens' integrity, the President said, Stevens wouldn't be holding the job he does.

Eisenhower said it may turn out that Stevens has made some mistakes, but he added that so far as the secretary's integrity and honor are concerned he stands behind Stevens.

The question of who is telling the truth looms as the central issue for the developing Senate inquiry into the row between McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, on the one hand and Army officials on the other.

Sen. McCarthy, commenting on Eisenhower's news conference, said "The public hearings will demonstrate who is telling the truth."

All the principals are expected to be called to testify under oath when the inquiry gets underway, probably late next week.

McCarthy said today he was willing to let Army lawyers cross-examine him.

"The Army should be entitled to have a lawyer cross-examine me and all adverse witnesses," McCarthy said in an interview.

More Plaintiffs Join Petition In Labor Battle

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — The number of plaintiffs seeking a receivership for Teamsters Local No. 823 rose to 240 today in the midst of a hearing whether a permanent injunction shall be issued against its five officers.

An intervening petition, bearing the names of 230 union members, was filed late yesterday. Circuit Judge Walter E. Bailey granted the petition. The intervenors made virtually the same allegations as set forth by the original 10 members who filed the first action.

The 10 charged the present officers of the local, with some 2,500 members in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, with failing and refusing to permit fair election of officers, with mismanagement and that they had employed thugs with police records to intimidate the plaintiffs.

In recent weeks the homes of two of the first 10 plaintiffs have been bombed. They are Amos Reniker, and H. L. Alexander.

The hearing was in recess this morning, while the judge and attorneys for the two sides conferred on a motion to modify a subpoena to order all of the union's records into court. A defense attorney contended the subpoena was too broad.

Scheduled to testify later today is a former business representative of the union.

Egyptians Wound 3 British Soldiers

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The British embassy announced that Egyptians wounded three British soldiers, one of them seriously, last night in a second outbreak of violence in the Suez Canal Zone within 24 hours.

Two British soldiers were slain Monday night in the zone and two others are missing. Quiet had prevailed since January in the disputed territory from which Egypt has demanded evacuation of the 80,000-man British garrison.

The Egyptian government charged last night and the British denied that following the slaying British troops had surrounded and searched Egyptian villages.

The Egyptian cabinet and the ruling revolutionary council discussed the growing tension in the Canal Zone until nearly midnight at a joint session.

Ike Says New Look Is Best

Plan Represents Best Efforts, Use Of Modern Weapons To Protect Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today any president ought to be impeached or even hanged who did not act immediately if the country were attacked by an aggressor.

The President told his news conference the "new look" military program which has been under attack by some Democrats represents the best efforts to use modern weapons and to conserve manpower in any war that might break out.

He said there was no radical departure from accepted military principles but rather an effort to combine scientific developments, geographical factors and other advances in a modern military machine.

The President spoke out on the military situation after defending the position taken by Secretary of State Dulles yesterday that it would not be necessary for the chief executive to consult Congress in advance before acting to meet an attack.

Eisenhower said nobody could foresee every possible condition that might arise. He said he was not backing away from the statement he made last week that this country would not be carried into war without the approval of Congress.

But he said, as an example of an extreme case, he could conceive of word coming to him while he was in the news conference that a great fleet of airplanes was coming from the south to destroy the United States.

If any citizen would hold him guiltless if he sat there and tried to get action before acting himself, the President said, he doesn't know who that citizen would be.

Self preservation requires quick reaction by nations as well as individuals, the President observed. If you are attacked, he said, you don't say call the police, you fight back or at least you run.

He said the situation was somewhat different before the Korean conflict began. The first order at the time of the North Korean attack was for air support to the South Koreans and he said there was plenty of time to go to Congress.

Without mentioning former President Truman's name Eisenhower said he was not trying to judge the action in that case. Truman consulted congressional leaders before acting in Korea but did not ask Congress for a declaration of war.

Eisenhower discussed the military situation one day after the first official confirmation that the United States has a usable hydrogen bomb.

There has been a chorus of administration voices saying the "new look" meant the United States has no strategy except the kind that would touch off World War III, but instead that it can continue to meet comparatively minor threats in a variety of ways.

Secretary of State Dulles, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), leader for his party in the Senate and Rep. W. Sterling Cole, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, spoke out in different fields yesterday.

Most of the criticism of the "new look" has appeared to assume it involves putting all America's chips on "massive retaliation"—presumably with nuclear weapons—while cutting down the size of conventional ground forces.

Humphrey Says Tax Cut Means Borrowing Money to Pay Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told senators today the administration opposes the House-approved excise tax cuts because "we have to have the money to pay our bills."

He agreed with Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) that the cuts would have to be paid for with borrowed money. "If anything will send us quicker to financial suicide, I don't know what it is," Byrd declared.

"That's my opinion," Humphrey said.

Judge Overrules Move To Try Shoulders, Nolan Together

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A government motion asking that Louis Shoulders and Elmer Dolan, accused of perjury, be tried together has been overruled by Judge Albert A. Ridge.

Shoulders' trial is set for April 12. Dolan's trial begins March 29.

Reward Offered In Bank Entry at Houstonia

Denies 'Top Secret' Atom Papers Gone

WASHINGTON (P) — Chairman Cole (R-NY) of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee says no "top secret" documents are missing at the Hanford atomic energy plant.

And no documents are unaccounted for "under circumstances which indicate theft or removal for purposes of subversion or espionage," he says.

He made public late yesterday a letter he has sent to Rep. Pelly (R-Wash.), who last week wrote the committee he had heard that classified documents were missing at the vast atomic energy installation in Washington state.

The letter was released after the committee had received closed-door testimony from three officials of the Atomic Energy Commission—David F. Shaw, manager of the Hanford operations office; K. D. Nichols, AEC general manager; and John Waters, AEC director of security.

Cole said the incident was closed as far as he was concerned.

Pelly told reporters he had "complete confidence" in the committee.

Among the more than 600,000 classified documents on record at Hanford having a classification lower than top secret, Cole said, "some are unaccounted for, representing an infinitesimal fraction of the total."

"In view of the number of documents at Hanford and the fact that thousands of them are in daily use and may be transferred from office to office frequently, the percentage of documents unaccounted for is impressively low," he said.

He explained that the list of unaccounted-for documents includes papers temporarily misfiled or destroyed without proper records being prepared. He said the committee does not feel there is any evidence of "lack of administration or poor housekeeping."

There are seven miles of elevator shafts in New York's Empire State building.

Hats Are Forward But Still On the Level

The Excitement's In Color and Trim

Little hats with a level look make the most fashion news this spring. We show here (upper left) a little profile bonnet of ice blue straw by Sally Victor. This has long-stemmed roses in red and pink at one side with stems entwined on crown. Hat with visored segment brim (upper right) is by Harryson in vivid Granada orange toyo. It's topped with whip and silk pompoms in matching orange. Hat made of row-on-row of black-and-natural milan straw (lower left) is edged with flange of velvet. This is a Chanda design. Neat toque of yellow toyo by Sally Victor has wing of the straw at one side (lower center) for dramatic flair. Opal straw with a pearly look is used (lower right) by Beatrice Martin for shallow bonnet trimmed with white silk rose and pearlized quills. The small, pretty look of spring hats is keyed to the slim lines of ready-to-wear.

Says Benny Son-In-Law's Ex-Wife Just Wants Money

NEW YORK (P)—The first wife of Jack Benny's new son-in-law has been accused of trying to extract money from him through the courts and newspapers.

The attorney for stock broker Seth H. Baker, 26, made this claim in asking that reporters be barred from court to protect Baker and his new wife, the former Joan Benny, 19.

The request came yesterday during a hearing in which Joan Scott Baker, 21, sought to invalidate a Virgin Islands divorce from Baker and instead get a legal separation and support.

Baker, who married Miss Benny last week in a lavish $50,000 Hollywood wedding, is now honeymooning in Hawaii.

His lawyer, Harold S. Lazar, told State Supreme Court Justice Morris Eder that Joan Scott Baker brought the action "because she wants to use the newspapers to exact a sum of money from him."

Lazar asked that reporters be barred and papers in the case be impounded. He continued: "One reason we seek to seal these papers is that Joan Benny is an innocent party in this matter. She . . . may be injured by the publicity. Mr. Baker is a stock broker and he can be damaged also."

Eder turned him down, saying: "I am a firm believer in hearing matters in open court, unless there is something that will injure public morals . . . There is nothing here to arouse public prejudice."

Joan Scott Baker's lawyer, David J. Landau, denied any shakedown attempt and added: "There is nothing lascivious or scandalous about this matter."

Landau said his client, a blonde model, married Baker in Florence, S. C., July 19, 1951, while he was an Army private. They kept the wedding secret from his family, Landau said.

When Baker's father found out about the marriage, Landau continued, he put economic pressure on his son and a Virgin Islands divorce was obtained Jan. 13, 1953.

However, Landau continued, the two lived together for nearly 12 months after the divorce or shortly before Baker met Miss Benny on New Year's Day, 1954.

Nixons Celebrating, It's Pat's Birthday

WASHINGTON (P)—This St. Patrick's Day is a triple occasion in the home of Vice President Nixon. Besides being her namesake's day, it is Mrs. Pat Nixon's 41st birthday and the vice president has promised to be home for dinner.

"We only manage to have a family dinner now about once a month," Mrs. Nixon said.

California has the most automobile dealers with New York second. Nevada has the least.

Shamrock Postoffice Having a Busy Day

SHAMROCK, Fla. (P)—Postmaster C. B. Goodman had about 500 more letters and cards than usual for postmarking today.

They went out on this St. Patrick's Day postmarked, of course, "Shamrock, Fla." They had been sent to this town of 390 from throughout the country for that special purpose.

Anything Green Goes For Less Here Today

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (P)—A local department store is offering a 20 per cent St. Patrick's Day reduction on any item with so much as a speck of green on it — except items on which prices were fixed by the manufacturer.

Doc Bob Sez:
"Here Are TWO EASY RULES for BUYING CLOTHES!"

1. READ THE LABELS. Reputable manufacturers of textiles and garments label their merchandise. If the item is guaranteed dry-cleanable or washable, it will be labelled so. If special handling is required to maintain the garment or fabric, the label will instruct and forewarn. Therefore, if a sufficiently explanatory label is missing, you're buying virtually at your own risk. Unless you—
2. GET PROPER ASSURANCE from the merchant. If he gives you adequate assurance that the item can be either washed or dry-cleaned, you have a right to expect him to stand back of his word. If he cannot or does not assure you, then naturally you're buying at your own risk. Why not pass such items up? There are too many good fabrics, garments, etc., on the market to take a chance on unserviceable merchandise.

Big Party Tonite For a Ghost. 923 Years Old

HOLYWELL, England (P) — They're tossing a party at the Ferry Boat Inn tonight for a woman who, if she exists, is 923 years old.

And spectral though she may be, at least nine of the guests are hoping the old girl will put in an appearance.

The ghost, known as the "White Lady of Holywell," is reputed to have haunted the inn since the middle of the 11th century.

Traditionally, she appears at midnight each March 17.

A. D. Cornell, of the Society for Psychic Research, claims he talked with her last year. She told him, he said, that her name was Juliet Tonsley and that she hanged herself in 1050, at the age of 19, because of an unhappy love affair with a woodcutter named Thomas Zoul.

Cornell and eight other members of the society will be waiting for her tonight.

If she shows up, they will go into action with a battery of infrared cameras, a tape recorder and a spectroscope. They want to find out what little girls are made of when they're nine centuries old.

Landlord Jack Rodd arranged to stay open and serve drinks for an extra hour.

He told reporters: "I hope the White Lady doesn't come to the party. If the ghost appears, my missus will disappear, and I need her help to run this place."

Archbishop Cushing Recovers From Spell

BOSTON (P) — Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, apparently recovered from a fainting spell in Worcester last night, was reported planning to celebrate a pontifical mass today in Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

The 58-year-old prelate returned to his home here after a few hours stay in St. Vincent's Hospital Worcester. He had been taken there after collapsing in a Worcester theater while delivering a St. Patrick's Eve address.

Miss Heryford, Lt. McCampbell Recently Wed

Miss Patricia Heryford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berwyn Heryford, Santa Rosa, Calif., and Lt. Leroy McCampbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCampbell, Santa Rosa, Calif., were united in marriage February 6. The McCampbells are former Green Ridge residents.

The service was read at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. William Bowen, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Roses. A bouquet of white narcissus and lilies of the valley graced the altar, and arrangements of calla lilies and greenery added to the beauty of the scene. "O Promise Be" and "Because" were sung preceding the entrance of the bride and groom.

Patricia was given in marriage by her father. She wore a pale blue knit dress with a bolero jacket, a white hat and navy accessories. Her bouquet of white orchids was centered with one large white orchid.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. Charles D. Carrington, was matron of honor. She was attired in bronze taffeta and carried a bouquet of pale yellow carnations in a moline ruffle.

Richard Holtzen served as best man and the ushers were Russell Etchell and Doane Heryford, son of Santa Rosa.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Etchell home on Mark Springs Road.

Mrs. Heryford received in a blue knit dress, with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of pink cymbidium.

The wedding cake was pale pink, and pink carnations were used to emphasize a pink color scheme. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Nina Williams, cut the cake. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Etchell and Mrs. Holtzen, sisters of the bridegroom. Miss Marlene Badger was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left for a short honeymoon. Lt. and Mrs. McCampbell will make their home at Las Vegas, Nev., where Lt. McCampbell is a jet plane instructor at Nellis Air Force Base.

The bride is past honored queen of Job's Daughters and past president Nu Phi Mu Sorority. Lt. McCampbell is a graduate of Santa Rosa Junior College.

Windsor WSCS Plans Mother-Daughter Night

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Windsor Methodist Church met Friday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. W. C. Boney, president, opened the meeting with a meditation, "Seeds," and gave the devotional on "Sowing Seeds of Love." During the business meeting plans were made for the Mother and Daughter Banquet to be held May 4.

Mrs. Emory Gunn, Mrs. Will Marti, Mrs. Leonard Taylor and Mrs. W. D. Hughes, in a round table discussion, gave the lesson on "Latin Americans Along the Mexican Border."

New Motel Goes Up In Southwest Tipton

In the southwest part of Tipton, on highways 50 and 5, a new motel is now under construction by Ben Weaver of Jefferson City, who previously purchased approximately four or five acres of land from Dr. H. P. Stonner. The property is east of Dr. Stonner's residence, extending to what will be remembered as the branch railroad tracks. There is a frontage of 1,500 feet.

Besides the motel there will be constructed a residence and cafe, all of brick and so arranged that additions can be made.

Mr. Weaver has been in the lumber business in Jefferson City. He and his wife and family plan to occupy their property here as soon as finished.

Their family includes three sons: Ralph, who is in the Air Force, stationed on Long Island, N. Y., and now on leave; Elmer of Dayton, O., and James of the home; and a daughter, Miss Dorothy Weaver, employed in Jefferson City at the state highway office.

Mr. Weaver states that it is hoped the construction will be completed by Decoration Day.

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

MEMBERS of the Chamber of Commerce board began to gather Tuesday afternoon and Bob Johnson came in with a pocketful of shamrocks which he passed around with "Compliments of Russell Brothers."

Regardless of whether they were Irish, English, German, Scottish, French, or some other nationality or a mixture of them all, they proudly put on the bright little green shamrock and sat there talking while still more members came in. Whether Bob ran out of shamrocks or just forgot to hand them out as the others came in we don't know, but there was a bit of curiosity on the faces of the late comers, until finally one could stand it no longer.

"Where did all the shamrocks come from?" he asked, looking about the room.

"That's what I was wondering," said Mrs. Vivian Warren, treasurer.

Somebody explained about Bob and the shamrocks and Vivian breathed a sigh of relief.

"I've been sitting here worried," she said. "I kept looking at the calendar. I didn't see how I could, but I thought maybe I had missed St. Patrick's Day entirely. I thought it wasn't until Wednesday, but with that many shamrocks I thought everybody wouldn't get the wrong day—it must be me!"

Mrs. Darrell Oder

Virginia Stuart Weds D. Oder

Miss Virginia Stuart, daughter of Mr. C. L. Stuart and Mrs. C. E. Trent, and Mr. Darrell Oder, son of Mrs. Lora Oder, were united in marriage, February 10 at 8 p. m. at the Stewart Methodist Church in Kansas City.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Mitchell Long before an altar set with baskets of cut flowers.

The church organist played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Marlene Higgins, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beige suit with matching hat and green reptile accessories. Her jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Irene Smith, sister of the bride was matron of honor and wore a powder blue suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was carnations.

Mr. J. Oder, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a gray suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The groom's mother wore a black dress with black accessories. Her corsage was also of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker. The bride's table held a three tier cake, decorated with yellow rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Oder are home at 3641 Forrest, Kansas City.

Sen. Hennings Today Defends Sen. Chavez

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic counterattack intended to prevent unseating of Sen. Chavez (D-NM) picks up its main ammunition today—a one-man minority report by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.).

Hennings was the only Democratic member of an election investigation subcommittee which looked into the 1952 New Mexico senatorial election and then brought out a resolution declaring a vacancy exists in the Senate as a result of irregularities on such a scale it was impossible to say who won the election.

Over Hennings' opposition, the full committee yesterday adopted the resolution. The vote was strictly on party lines five Republicans to four Democrats. Hennings files his minority report today.

Now the issue goes to the Senate, where Democrats have a one-vote edge.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said he plans to bring the issue up for debate Tuesday and hopes to get a vote Tuesday.

Remarks of one Republican member of the committee, McCarthy of Wisconsin, seemed to substantiate predictions that the unseating move will have rough going on the Senate floor.

Although he voted with his Republican colleagues in the committee, McCarthy said in an interview later he had "reserved judgment" as to what he would do on the floor.

Doubt has also been expressed by Republicans that Sen. Langer (R-ND) and Sen. Morse of Oregon, only independent in the Senate, will go along with them.

Chavez in a statement voiced confidence the Senate would find his election over Republican candidate Patrick J. Hurley valid. The senator said the committee majority report was based on "falsehoods, innuendoes and partisan conclusions."

Hurley declined comment.

Mother Tells Cops She Beat Her Baby Fatally, Due to Anger

SPRING CITY, Pa. (AP)—Police said today a young mother, charged with homicide, told them she beat her 9-month-old daughter to death because she was "mad at it."

Police Chief John Hanebury said Mrs. Phyllis Seeley, 21, who lives in a local trailer camp, called a taxi to give herself up after the beating.

He said he accompanied her to her trailer home and found the baby, Dawn, still alive. The child died six hours later in a hospital.

Police said the infant apparently had been beaten over the head with a hammer. A necktie was knotted around her neck. Hanebury also said Mrs. Seeley told him she knocked the child's head against a wall of the trailer because her crying made her "nervous."

Another daughter, about 2, was found unharmed in the trailer. Mrs. Seeley's husband Richard was at work at the time.

Dillon, HST Friend, Will Be Sentenced

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sentencing has been set for Monday for Paul Dillon, personal friend of former President Truman, who was convicted yesterday of attempting to evade $1,799 in income taxes for 1950-51.

An all-male jury took just 30 minutes to return its verdict against the 76-year-old St. Louis attorney who once was a campaign manager for Truman.

Dillon, who will remain free on bond until the sentencing was named in a two-count federal indictment last November. He faces a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

He explained why he did not testify in his own behalf during the two-day trial by telling newsmen: "When you're 76 years old they can't hurt you."

Yanks Beef Up National China's Anti-Communist Guerrillas

There Is Whopping Psychological Profit In Raids on the Communist Mainland

By Ferd Sparks
NEA Staff Correspondent

TACHEN, Nationalist Guerrilla Island off Red China—Our government has finally bought a plan to beef up Nationalist guerrillas raiding Red China.

It is hoped these raiders will include a fat share of the toughest and bitterest of the 14,000 Chinese POWs who refused Mother Mao's offer to come home (all is forgiven).

Our plan might scramble some diplomatic tea parties, for London considers the Communist lease on Peiping legal and binding.

The State Department doesn't like to headline our unique involvement, but it's no secret to anyone who walks around Taipei. On Formosa, with its ration of private Red eyes, guerrillas in training wear buttons stamped with the Stars and Stripes announcing they learn commando capers from U. S. beachhead experts.

On this all-guerrilla island of Tachen, yawning American LCT's spill U. S. ammo crates; sweating coolies carry them to guerrilla positions.

Nor does it take a Pinkerton to extract slugs from Red soldiers scratched during recent guerrilla raids. The bullets are as American as Marilyn Monroe DiMaggio's silhouette.

Why are we going to invest bigger bankrolls in guerrillas needing Dictator Mao? Because, watching beaches is less capable of another push past the 38th Parallel—or of collecting fresh Asian properties.

2. Our administration warns that if Korea should reflate, we'd mess up Dictator Mao's living room as well as President's Rhee's rice paddies.

3. Ike's New Look, reducing massive foot-borne armies for an age when one scientific sizzler can radio-activate North Dakota, also includes building up our own, and allied commandos and paratroopers. You don't A-bomb a tenement to flush one gangster.

4. The Pentagon currently believes Free China would be applying for suicide to make a major invasion, and wants it to stick (for the present) to guerrilla rabbit punches.

Is Red China a soft touch for military muggers?

Well, imagine America trying to prevent commandos hitting any inch of our coastline if an enemy held a big base 90 miles from the Stork Club, plus strips of islands one to five miles offshore from Carolina to Boston. And assume half our population anxious to put out the "welcome" mat for the foe.

That's roughly Peiping's position, with guerrillas operating from Formosa and islands like the one I'm on, less than five cigarette puffs by jet from major Communist industry. Others operate inside China itself, paining Mao like a swallowed plum pit.

There's whopping psychological profit in these raids, for they make locals realize that—even though under Communism there's only one name on the ballot—someone's still trying to turn the rascals out . . . in cuffs.

The first 63 Chinese POWs who came to Formosa last year when President Rhee opened the gates recently visited Quomo's, largest guerrilla offshore island.

At a position next the mainland they used a jazzed up loud speaker to shout to Red soldiers across the skinny strip of water. It so happened that (spies told them) the Red outfit was the 39th unit of the Fourth Communist Field Army.

Several ex-POWs had served the 39th in Korea and they microphoned powerful comments on the habits and general wickedness of the commanding officer, adding: 'Comrades, put down your arms and swim through the gulf to join us.'

Such commercials have been getting a high rating.

Some Yanks advising the guerrillas today are on regular Army assignment. Others are ex-soldiers, sailors and marines who have been bored stiff since World War II ended and drooled at the cash the Nationalist Government offered.

THE PERSUADED: Armed with "grease-guns," Free China guerrillas line up on the deck of an armed junk before a raid on the Red-held mainland. Cannon in background is a gift of U.S.

Pat Clark Sketches As Emory Bowman Addresses Optimists

Give him a pen, pencil, paint brush and something to sketch on and Pat Clark can no more keep from sketching than a doodler can keep from doodling, but a doodler usually comes out with something that onlookers wonder what it might be. People know what Pat Clark is sketching.

It was Pat Clark and Emory Bowman who presented the program Tuesday noon at Optimist Club at the Bothwell Hotel. Emory did the talking while Pat did the sketching, starting with a picture of the Mayflower and coming on down with likenesses of historical personalities, living and dead, to the President of the United States. Mr. Clark also drew sketches of a couple of prominent Optimist members, Judge Dimmitt Hoffman and Frank Middleton.

The meeting was presided over by Harold Barrick, president, and invocation was given by Maurice Hogan.

Charles Hanna led the singing, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors was program chairman for the day.

Guests introduced were Mrs. K. L. Holdren, Jack Reeder, Kansas City, and Francis Lucas, St. Joseph.

Sen. McCarthy Okays His Own Examination

WASHINGTON, P.—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) offered today to let Army lawyers cross-examine him under oath when his investigations subcommittee probes his battle of charge and counter-charge with Army officials.

"The Army should be entitled to have a lawyer cross-examine me and all adverse witnesses," he said in an interview. Under present rules of the subcommittee, this would not be possible, although McCarthy, a member, could cross-question Army witnesses.

He said he would recommend that the investigations group adopt a special rule on cross-examination—but only for this probe it ordered yesterday. Present rules allow only committee members and staff to cross-examine, though others may suggest questions.

The Wisconsin senator has agreed to stand aside as chairman while the subcommittee looks into Army charges that McCarthy and his chief counsel Roy Cohn tried to apply improper pressure to get special treatment for G. David Schine, a former unpaid subcommittee consultant who now is an Army private at Camp Gordon, Ga.

To be probed at the same time are McCarthy's and Cohn's countercharges that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, the Army's general counsel, tried to "blackmail" them into an effort to ward off a subcommittee investigation of alleged Communists in Army ranks.

Serving as temporary chairman during this special probe will be Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), a close associate of McCarthy in past proceedings. Mundt said he preferred that some other Senate group not directly concerned with the controversy do the job, but he bowed to the will of the seven-man group, which voted yesterday to do its own investigating.

Part of the proceedings will be in public, probably before television cameras. These hearings may come late next week.

McCarthy will continue to serve on the subcommittee during the probe and thus, unless there are further rule changes, could play a dual role—that of the investigator and the investigated.

The senator has said he is "fully satisfied that no one on my staff is guilty of improper conduct or using any undue influence on the Army." He said he regards it as being of the "utmost importance" that the public get all of the facts in the case.

The subcommittee—which met behind closed doors yesterday to lay the ground rules for the unusual probe—was in recess until Tuesday while Mundt and Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, the senior Democrat on the group, searched for a special staff of two lawyers and three investigators to dig into the evidence. It was agreed that the subcommittee's regular staff would take no part in this work, since its key members are involved.

Mundt said he and McClellan agreed at a meeting last night to hunt for a special chief counsel, "aloof from the whole controversy, competent and with a name recognized by the public generally as meeting those qualifications."

Green Ridge PTA Elects New Officers, Hears Music Program

The Green Ridge Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting Wednesday night, March 10, at the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. Earl Hinken, presiding.

Mrs. Hinken opened the meeting with a short devotional. During the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Earl Hinken; vice-president, Mrs. Joe DeCuster; secretary, Mrs. Wesley Harding; treasurer, Mrs. George Bucholtz; and historian, Mrs. Wilfred Hollenbeck.

The treasurer reported that approximately $47 was netted from the bake sale held recently by the PTA to buy caps for the members of the school band. Supt. Wayne Huddleston presented an interesting talk on the school budget.

Mrs. Joe DeCuster reported that there were 74 paid members of PTA. The room count award went to the freshman class.

The attendance prizes which are awarded to the faculty, the mothers and the fathers of the PTA went to Mrs. Basil Chaney, Mrs. Earl Hinken and Elburn Chaney.

A musical program was presented by the following students: piano duet, Judith Ann Miller and Rosilea Ruffin; clarinet solo, Elaine Brown; flute solo, Jackie Kendrick; flute solo, Shelley Sue Morrow; and piano solo, Shelley Sue Morrow.

The next meeting will be held April 14.

COLONIAL DRESS MATCHES ANTIQUE LAW—Calling herself "Mrs. Voteless," Mrs. Ambrose Martin Walsh, of Washington, D. C., dresses herself in a colorful costume to protest the fact that residents of the District of Columbia can't vote. Carrying a revised slogan of the Revolutionary War and an income tax form, Mrs. Walsh paid a visit to a Senate committee asking support for a home-rule bill. She represents capital's League of Women Voters.

Make-up Helps FBI Man Nab Man Bothering Make-up Man

LOS ANGELES, P.—An FBI agent, made up to look like make-up artist Max Factor Jr., over the telephone to drive to a vacant lot in nearby Reseda in accused of trying to extort $30,000 from Factor under threat of blast- ing him and his family with a small white fence.

An FBI agent, disguised as Factor, carried out the instructions with a dummy bundle of money. After the delivery was made, the arrest climaxed week-long negotiations by letter, telephone and a newspaper ad and marked the third time the package had been planted at spots designated by the would-be extortionist. The first two times he apparently had been frightened off.

Last Thursday night Factor, head of the cosmetics firm founded by his father, his wife Mildred and their son Donald, 19, left their Beverly Hills mansion after a man telephoned that a time bomb was hidden in a wall. Another son, Mark, 15, is in private school.

The FBI quoted Ringholz, who came here last November from Cleveland, Ohio, as saying he selected Factor after reading about him in "Who's Who." Ringholz was swiftly arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Howard Calverley and held under $10,000 bond on a charge of using the mails in an extortion attempt. His preliminary hearing will be April 8.

Factor said he received the first extortion letter last Tuesday. He was told to place an ad in a newspaper, bundle up $30,000 in small bills and await further instructions. He notified the FBI immediately.

Factor got another telephone call shortly after midnight Friday telling him a time bomb had been planted in his home and was set to go off at 1:30 a.m. He was told that if the would-be extortionist received the money, he would get sports car to the grove and the money was placed on the sheet, location along with instructions on how to disarm it. A search failed to uncover any bomb.

Minutes later, the FBI said, Ringholz walked into the grove and picked up the package. He was arrested immediately. Agents quoted him as saying his family knew nothing of the plot, that he was deeply in debt.

Parakeets Cause Trouble for Tenant

DETROIT, P.—Landlord Paul Dingley and tenant William Kuzman disagreed over how many parakeets Kuzman kept in his apartment.

Dingley said there were "more than 50." Kuzman said only two objected. Circuit Court Commissioner Wil- liam Krueger yesterday ordered Kuzman to pay the rent, or vacate. Kuzman said he'd vacate.

Anyway, Dingley, complain- ing over "corn husks on the floor" and a "pine tree hanging from the chandelier," raised the rent from $30 a month to $125. Kuzman For Ambulance Service Ph 8

Extension Seen Of St. Louis Earnings Tax

JEFFERSON CITY — Extension of the controversial St. Louis earnings tax heads toward probable Senate passage next week in a changed guise.

Neither friends nor foe of the hotly disputed measure got all they wanted as the Missouri Senate advanced it yesterday after three hours of patching.

The sponsors wanted to extend the present law on a permanent basis so the present authority to levy up to one per cent of resident and nonresident earnings can continue beyond the April 1 expiration date.

Only one-half of one per cent is levied now and the city says it has to have the eight million dollars a year revenue to stay in business on the current scale.

Enemies of the measure—spearheaded by senators whose constituents live outside the city but earn their living there—wanted to kill it entirely.

They didn't succeed in that but a Republican-Democratic coalition did set up three big limitations:

1. The tax authorization will expire in three years, or in the summer of 1937, thus forcing an other legislative tussle instead of being on a permanent basis.

2. The city will keep its authority to set up deductions (none is allowed now) but will lose the power to increase the tax to one per cent must stay at the current one-half of one per cent level.

3. A modified referendum plan was approved so the voters can pass on the tax if 15 per cent of them sign the necessary petitions. Revenue measures can't go on a referendum ballot in St. Louis now. Other referendum measures there require only 7 per cent of the voters to sign the petitions.

Sponsors of the measure saw one good sign. The bill was advanced to position for passage by a 20-7 vote and usually that's the test of how the Senate feels.

It would have to pick up another three votes to get enough for passage of the emergency clause to make it effective immediately.

General House members listened to the measure through debate. So did some of the city officials who have pressed for quick action.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker had no comment on the Senate changes and no one wanted to predict what would happen when the bill reaches the House next week.

Conservation Good Turn Program Set For Local Scouts

Boy Scout leaders, attending a meeting Tuesday night at the Courthouse, heard plans for the local observance of Conservation Good Turn Week Here beginning Sunday.

John Hickey, conservation agent, gave the history of conservation in this country and state and explained the value of further conservation methods to the people of today.

Plans were made for a meeting of all Boy Scouts to be held next Tuesday night to enroll them in the Conservation Good Turn program. A movie, "Yours Is the Land," is to be shown at that time. All members of Scout troops and Explorer posts are being invited and urged to attend.

Would Extend Limit Of Jurisdiction To Coastal Shelf

CARACAS, Venezuela — The Inter-American Conference called up for discussion today a proposal to extend each coastal American nation's area of "national sovereignty and jurisdiction" to the limits of the continental shelf.

The proposal by Ecuador calls for a conference during 1935 to study "practical problems" of the situation.

Various governments favor such a conference as a step to conserving mineral resources beneath the offshore waters and as a way of avoiding future international quarrels, particularly over commercial fishing.

Differing opinions of the limits of national sovereignty have led to disputes between Mexico and fishermen from Cuba, Texas and Florida, and between California fishermen and Ecuador.

Patient Gets Chance To Voice Complaint On Hospital Care

CLEVELAND — The poor, beleaguered hospital patient who despite all good intentions thinks his convalescence is more like a jail sentence than anything else soon may be his chance to unburden himself.

If he wants to beef about the food or complain his signal light went unanswered for 15 minutes he can do so on a form now being tested in three Cleveland hospitals.

And if he wants to lend the strength of his voice to his protests, he will have the benefit of a tape recorder.

The project is sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service seeking to develop a technique which hospitals all over the country can use to check just what patients think about the way they are being treated.

The United States stopped minting silver dollars in 1935, although most of the "cartwheels" now in circulation were minted between 1821 and 1927.

Representatives Have Gay St. Pat's Day — JEFFERSON CITY — Sure and it was a fine day for the Irish in the Missouri House of Representatives on this St. Patrick's Day.

The House adjourned in memory of the Irish saint but during the brief session the true sons of the old sod had a gay time.

And they were joined by other members whose claim to the land of Erin could be said to be least questioned. But if there is a thing called an Irish grin, then such were worn blithely today by representatives named Mazzuca, Berra, Vonderschmidt and Raffie.

Man Is Held on Charge Of Molesting Girl — WICHITA — Norman Cross, 28, identified as an unemployed pilot from St. Louis, is being held by Wichita authorities.

Det. Capt. James M. Reeves said last night that Cross "is wanted for molesting the 14-year-old daughter of a Missouri law enforcement official."

Det. William Bulla said Cross admitted molesting the daughter of the chief of police at Bel-Ridge, Mo., near St. Louis, but Cross said he thought she was at least 17.

Shamrock Mail Booms, Delays Postman's Work — SHAMROCK, Mo. — The St. Patrick's day boom at Shamrock delayed the mails for about an hour this morning.

But the star route mail carrier from Wellsville, who transports mail to and from this postoffice, was only too glad to delay his appointed rounds to wait for covers to be stamped by Postmaster W. S. Armstrong.

An estimated thousand covers finally were dispatched from this tiny northeastern Callaway County postoffice at 9:30 a. m.—an hour later than usual.

The total was about half of the record-breaking total sent out last year. However, Armstrong said he thought all 48 states were represented and he knew that covers went to nine foreign countries.

Last year covers went to only six foreign countries.

Naturally, Ireland was included in the total but only one cover went to the green sod.

Other countries represented were Canada, with four covers; England with eight; India, one; Spain, one; New Zealand, one; Cyprus, one; Paraguay, one; and Argentina, one.

Armstrong said this was the first time India had been represented and although South American countries had been represented previously he could not recall previous requests for covers from Paraguay.

Total this year was still far above the normal average of 600 to 800 covers. Daily average here is about 15 or 20 letters. The Shamrock postoffice serves about 15 families.

Chinese Girl Weds Brother To Enter US

HONG KONG — An American official said today a 24-year-old Chinese girl wanted to get into the United States so badly she went through a wedding ceremony with her own brother.

The official said there was no question of incest.

A spokesman for the American consulate general's citizenship section said the brother, 26, has American citizenship papers.

He added the brother is now aboard the liner President Cleveland headed for San Francisco, where he will be picked up for questioning.

Hong Kong police said they were investigating but had taken no action against the girl, who is at liberty here.

The names of the couple were withheld pending questioning of the brother.

The girl said her father went to the United States when he was 16, entered a business in New York, two years later.

St. Patrick Opens Its Festivities With High Mass and Sermon

ST. PATRICK, Mo. — A solemn high mass and sermon opened St. Patrick's day festivities today at this small northeastern Missouri town.

The ceremony will end tonight with a community meal at the St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church and a dance at which a queen will be selected.

Local volunteers have been busy for several weeks at their annual job of decorating thousands of envelopes to go with the famous green shamrock cachet.

Many of the letters, especially those for foreign countries, were mailed earlier in the hope they would be delivered today. Others will be mailed today with the March 17 date on the regular postmark.

Southerners Continue Fight On Statehood

WASHINGTON — Southern senators skilled in the art of lengthy debate today continued the fight on statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) was prepared to take over where Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) left off last night.

Eastland occupied the Senate floor for nearly four hours yesterday in what he said was the "refuge" to a discussion of his theme, that Communists dominate the political and economic life of the Hawaiian Islands.

The Mississippi senator announced that he plans to speak for "three or four days."

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.), a leader in the opposition to the combined Hawaii-Alaska statehood bill, told a reporter there will be no filibuster in an effort to prevent a Senate vote. But he said he does not believe there is a chance for a vote "on anything" in the Senate this week.

He said an amendment proposing commonwealth status for Hawaii and Alaska as a substitute for statehood probably will be offered in the Senate tomorrow.

He said it will be sponsored by Senators Monroney (D-Okla.), Fulbright (D-Ark.), Butler (R-Md.), Malone (R-Nev.), Daniel, Smathers and others.

The commonwealth proposal would give the two territories the present status of Puerto Rico—with right to elect their own governors and the privilege of retaining federal tax collections for local use.

But they would not get voting representation in Congress nor the right to participate in presidential elections.

If there is no vote on statehood in the Senate this week, the legislation may be laid aside next week for Senate consideration of excise tax legislation and the 1932 New Mexico senatorial election contest.

Eastland said he has information he will present to the Senate later on the extent of financing of the Communist press in Hawaii.

"Very alarming condition." He also said he had proof that $150,000 to $200,000 a year is sent from Hawaii to the West Coast "to Harry Bridges to help spread communism in the United States."

Bridges, head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, was described by Eastland as a "puppet of Moscow."

C. of C. Board Gets Reports On Many Current Activities

Fred Schaeffer of the Missouri Highway Department made a report to the directors of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, at the regular meeting of that group, on the plans for the extending of the 16th Street Road from Highway 127 on to the base of Sedalia Air Force Base. This will make available to the people at the Air Base, and all the people in that area, a good road into Sedalia which will shorten the distance from the Air Base to Sedalia about 2 1/2 miles.

Mr. Schaeffer was introduced by Maurice Hogan, director of the traffic and parking improvement division. Mr. Hogan also said the traffic program which will soon be presented to the city.

Bob Cain, director of recreation and education, made a good report on the recreational training program held recently with Mrs. Anne Livingston, of the National Recreational Association, coming to Sedalia without charge because Sedalia is in a defense area. The week of training courses would have cost $150.

He stated that the program was very successful and that his division is now working on Business Education Day, March 26, which is something new for Sedalia. This, he believes, will be equally successful with 31 industries to take part.

Mr. Cain also announced that the Sedalia public golf course will again be operated this year for citizens of Sedalia and the personnel at the Air Base.

Dr. J. B. Rice, director of the health and safety division, and up a brief talk before the group explained fluoridation, telling of its value to children in preventing tooth decay and that it was not harmful to anyone. Dr. Rice said that Sedalia was next to the top in the state in having a low amount of fluorine in the water and a large percentage of tooth decay among children. This is one place, said Dr. Rice, where we do not want to be next to the top.

Bob Johnson, director of the aviation and military affairs division, announced that the service

'Time' Reports H-Bomb Force Is Surprise

NEW YORK — Time Magazine today reported the latest U. S. thermocouple explosion went off at March 1 with a blast probably 500 times greater than the Hiroshima atomic bomb.

The force of the explosion, Time said, completely surprised atomic scientists working on the project at the U. S. proving grounds in the Marshall Islands.

Twenty-eight U. S. observers and 236 island natives, thought to have been evacuated to a safe distance, were showered with radio-active particles. Time reported. Their exposure was 10 times greater than the usual safety limit, the magazine said, but the Atomic Energy Commission announced there had been no burns.

Time said calculation of the blast force is still incomplete but was so great that the AEC was forced to reclassify a test on Nov. 1, 1952, as a "misfire."

Force of the "misfire" was "awesome enough," Time added, and gave these details on that test:

The blast was 250 times as great as the Hiroshima bomb; its fire ball measured 28 miles in diameter;

By HAL BOYLE
ABOARD THE MAURETANIA AT SEA—A baby girl is almost as rare on a pleasure cruise as a baby elephant.

When my wife booked passage for three on an 18-day voyage to the West Indies and South America, the Cunard Line agents were perturbed to learn that the third member of the family was our 8-month-old daughter, Tracy.

"We are well set up to care for infants on our transatlantic voyages," they said. "But, frankly, we don't encourage the taking of infants on a long tropical pleasure cruise, and it is rather . . . um . . . unusual, to say the least."

This upset us. My wife, Frances, had looked forward to this cruise for years—as kind of a late honeymoon to take the place of the one we couldn't afford when we were first married. But Tracy had come as a late surprise in our lives, too, and we would have turned our backs on 18 days of Paradise if it meant leaving her behind.

"Why, they forget so quickly at that age," said Frances. "Tracy probably wouldn't know us when we returned, if we went on the cruise without her, and that would break my heart."

When we told the ship line officials we either had to sail as a family trinity or forget my wife's long dream of a cruise, they reluctantly said Tracy could come along if she agreed not to eat her baby-size life preserver or try to enter any gin rummy tournaments in the lounge.

Tracy embarked with the fanfare of a movie queen, minus the dark glasses. There were seven native diaper bearers in her entourage.

Children don't get seasick until the age of two, so Tracy, who can't walk and refuses to get her sea legs. She fell asleep on her stomach while friends were telling her "bon voyage."

That night at a gathering to meet the ship officers, the chief steward said:

"Did you notice we were several minutes late in sailing this morning? Do you know why? We were held up waiting for a call of baby food for your daughter to get aboard."

The next day as we were pushing Tracy around the promenade deck in her stroller, another ship's officer bent down, and said:

"So you're the little lady that delayed our sailing 16 minutes." He chuckled her under the chin, and smiled. "Promise you won't ever do it again."

I suppose all proud parents are told this as a joke—that the ship's departure was delayed to get their baby's food aboard—but when I tell Tracy about this some years from now I'm going to treat it as gospel truth.

"When you were 8 months old you kept a $5,000 liner and 1,300 people waiting," I'll tell her. "Now don't you think it's about time to learn to be prompt?"

No one has gotten more out of the cruise than Tracy. The crew couldn't have pampered her more if she had been the daughter of the Cunard Line's board chairman. Our room steward, Jack Barnes, a father himself, treats her as if she were his own.

Babies have a change of routine

as much as grownups do. They're really very conservative. But Tracy adjusted to shipboard life within a day. We were afraid to take her ashore at any of the ports, but she didn't mind. She has had a high time in her crib or on deck flapping with Barnes and learning to play patty-cake with the young stewardess, Miss Heather Butler, who has a heart for children.

Tracy, after patty-caking her hands nearly raw, has learned to speak with a British accent. Her first word was "Cool," which, as everybody knows, is a Cockney expression of wonder or surprise.

Everything brings a "Cool" from her—flapping gulls, a sudden breeze, the foam in the ship's wake, or the passengers who stop to chat with her. They have been wonderful to her, for she is the only baby between her and land.

"Doesn't she look exactly like her father?" exclaimed one of two women who passed us on deck. My pride-expanded chest collapsed when, as they strolled on, the wind blew back the remark of the second woman—"but she'll probably outgrow it."

Another woman stopped many times to play with Tracy. Once she turned away suddenly with wet eyes. Later I learned she had lost a daughter of her own, and I felt how often in this world our personal happiness is but a small island washed by the seas of others' sadness.

Tracy will end this unremembered first voyage of her life with at least two distinctions. Capt. A. B. Fasting had her as one of his guests at a party in his cabin, and said she was the only one who showed up barefoot.

As for the other distinction, Tracy sailed with only four teeth but will end the cruise with five. No other passenger can make this claim.

Merry-Go-Round Washington Now Drinks More Whiskey Than Milk

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Democrats have been ribbing their GOP colleagues on Capitol Hill for installing roll-call bells in the Republican Club, across the street from the house office building, so they can slip over to the bar for a snifter without missing any roll-call votes.

On top of this, Wyoming's Democratic Senator Lester Hunt has dug up statistics, which he is gleefully quoting to Republicans, showing that Washington, D. C. consumed 96,000 gallons more liquor the first year of Republican rule than the last year of the Democratic regime.

In 1952, the city guzzled 4,034,787 gallons of liquor. But in 1953, celebrating Republicans helped boost this figure to 4,151,312 gallons—not counting beer and wine. This was higher, incidentally, than the milk consumption in the nation's capital.

Note—GOP press releases have boasted that coffee consumption has dropped in Washington D. C., thanks in part to the Republican crack-down on coffee drinking during office hours. In answer to this argument, Senator Hunt chides his GOP friends: "Apparently the Republicans have substituted liquor for coffee under the misapprehension that their administration will be more efficient if more liquor, and less coffee is consumed."

Mr. Sam On Taxes

Regardless of President Eisenhower's appeal to the public on taxes, the fate of the tax bill largely lies in the hands of one kindly but powerful Democrat. He is ex-speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

"Mr. Sam" as he is called by younger colleagues has served 41 years in the House of Representatives and prizes in his library a long list of laws which he put through congress protecting the public generally and the little man in particular. They include the Truth-in-Securities Act requiring corporations to tell the truth about their bond and stock issues; the Securities and Exchange Act, setting up a body to police Wall Street; the Holding Corporation Act, cutting up some of the big holding corporations; Rural Electrification; the Federal Communications Commission and various others.

Unlike his young Texas disciple, Senator Lyndon Johnson, "Mr. Sam" has never deviated from his policy of fighting for the "folks." And that is one reason the Republican tax bill faces rough sledding. For "Mr. Sam" is just about ready to move to send the entire tax bill back to the Ways and Means Committee, in which case he has so much prestige in Congress that almost every Democrat and some Republicans will back him up.

Tax "Steals"

One reason for Sam Rayburn's opposition to the tax bill is that it gives too many favors to the big taxpayer and follows the "trickle-down" system used in Andy Mellon's day of granting benefits at the top on the theory that they will trickle down to the bottom. Specifically the new tax bill contains five big loopholes—some congressmen call them "steals" through which Sam says the corporations could just about drive a truck.

Here is a list of the loopholes:

1. Dividend Credits—Those who receive their income from dividends as against wages and earned income get an allowance of $50 the first year and $100 thereafter. On top of this they get an exemption of 10 per cent on their tax bill. Democratic opponents of the tax bill point out that 75 per cent of those getting income from dividends are people earning over $10,000 a year.
2. Accelerated Depreciation—This permits corporations and others to write off the cost of new investments at a much faster rate, and according to the Democrats will mean a loss to the government for the next 17 years. Other taxpayers will have to make up that loss.

3. Reduced Taxes On Foreign Income—Corporations with investments abroad will have their taxes reduced about one-third or from 52 per cent to 33 per cent. Some Democrats don't object to the principle of encouraging foreign loans, but say they should not be encouraged at the expense of other taxpayers. Others object on the ground that U. S. companies will move factories to cheap foreign labor markets at the expense of American labor, just as some New England factories are now moving south.
4. Charitable Trusts—This is a provision whereby a high-bracket taxpayer can give stocks and bonds to a university or charity for two years or more then get them back later. This gives him an important tax deduction. Thus, a 90 per cent bracket taxpayer, loaning securities to a college which would earn him $10,000, will save himself about $9,000 in taxes and would get a tax reduction of $10,000.

5. Pension Inequities—This loophole reinstates the unfair provisions of the tax laws during the 1930's when corporations could get tax reductions to pay pensions to top executives only. In 1942, these injustices were wiped out and small-salaried people could also get pensions. The new law goes back 12 years and reinstates earlier abuses by which only top executives benefited from deductions for pensions.

These are some of the things that rankle Sam Rayburn and will make the tax fight one of the hottest in years.

Wider Doors

Congressman Martin Dies of Texas is skeptical about some of the security plans being proposed for the protection of house members following the recent shooting.

"The only security we need around here is more doors to the house chamber," says the big Texan. "When the shooting started, I headed for the closest exit. Unfortunately for me, Frank Boykin chose the same door. Unfortunately, also, he got there first."

"If you want to tangle with a real roadblock, just try to go through a door sometime when Frank Boykin is there ahead of you."

"On second thought," says Dies, "security requirements might be met by 'widening' the present doors of the house chamber to accommodate better colleagues." The gentleman from Alabama, Mr. Boykin, tips the scales at around 250 pounds.

Peter Edson's Column— See Few of Ike's First Team Playing Out Four-Year Game

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—Perhaps President Eisenhower ought to install the two-plateon system for the administration. Because at the moment, it seems most unlikely that his first team will play out the full four-year game without substitution.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes is the latest to retire from the field. His resignation will take effect May 1. Formerly an executive vice president of General Motors, Kyes was brought to Washington by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, former G. M. president, to be his principal deputy. Kyes has not announced whether he will return to his old company or take another position.

The Department of Defense has been reorganized considerably under the Wilson-Kyes direction. The principal change has been the addition of ten assistant secretaries: Compartmentalized responsibility has been delegated to these ten. But the problems of the Department of Defense seem to be just as numerous as before.

Hypertension is Occupational Disease

Dr. Robert L. Johnson was one of the first of the Eisenhower team to go. He quit as director of the U. S. Information agency last July. Reason given for his resignation was his health and hypertension. This is an occupational disease for Washington executives. Dr. Johnson was subjected to a severe attack of McCarthyism and returned to the academic cloisters of Temple University's presidency.

In between Johnson has been quite a string of impressive departures. Most recent have been the resignation of Undersecretary of State Donald B. Lourie and C. D. Jackson, special assistant to the President for psychological warfare.

Mr. Lourie went back to being president of Quaker Oats Co., leaving behind him an unsolved foreign service reorganization, all of the State Department security appeals cases, and a potential row with Senator McCarthy over taking away the personal management functions of Security Administrator Scott McLeod.

C. D. Jackson goes back to being a Time-Life-Fortune executive. The cold war problems would appear to be no nearer solution than they were when he came in, though this is probably more attributable to the Russians than to anything done or not done by Jackson.

Department of Agriculture has had a veritable housecleaning in its top command with nine out of 12 of Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's first team quitting for one reason or another.

Romeo Short, Democrat and American Farm Bureau Federation vice president, quit as assistant secretary after a policy row. Assistant Secretary John H. Davis has resigned to teach at Harvard. Howard Gordon, another Democrat, resigned as Commodity Stabilization administrator to return to Southern States Co-operative, Richmond, Va. Marcus B. Braswell and Lionel C. Holm, two of Gordon's assistants in the department, left with him. John C. Davis and four other new information specialists quit after short runs.

Wreck Cleared But No New Train

Politics, policy differences and just plain loss of interest are accountable for these departures. Some, like John H. Davis, came to Washington to get the train back on the track. They leave with the wreckage cleared away but before a new train is running. And more resignations from Agriculture's top crew are expected soon.

Craig R. Sheaffer left his job as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for domestic affairs after failing to oust Dr. Allen V. Astin as Director of Bureau of Standards.

John M. Cabot, hand-picked for his post as Assistant Secretary of State for Latin-American affairs, resigned to take a post as ambassador to Sweden under circumstances still not fully or satisfactorily explained.

Three top cabinet officers have been under criticism and pressure to quit their jobs after grand rows on policy decisions. They are Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., and Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens. But so far all are sticking it out.

Washington is a city where the only thing constant is change. But running the government is a full-time job, and a political life-career. It can't be taken up like a new hobby and dropped. It takes a long time for replacements to learn their way around and in this process government suffers.

Manners Make Friends

What are some of the things that make for a good host? A heartiness in the way he welcomes guests. His ability to see that guests have all they want to eat or drink without urging them to take more than they want. His own relaxed attitude—that encourages guests to relax. His ability to talk when conversation falters and to listen appreciatively when others talk.

The houses we enjoy most are the ones in which the man of the house is a wonderful host. A married couple invites you and your husband as their guests to a formal dance. What can you do to show your appreciation? One thing you might do is send your hostess a corsage to wear to the dance. But if you do, make sure you select flowers that will go with the dress she plans to wear.

Better no corsage than one that fights with an evening gown!

If you can put a smile in your voice, it doesn't much matter what you say. There's never a smile in Sighing Sadie's voice. She can say "It's a beautiful day" with so little warmth and spirit you think it must be raining outside.

It doesn't much matter what the Sighing Sadies say, either. For no matter what they tell you—it always sounds like bad news.

BIG INDUSTRY

The Christmas tree industry of the United States is a mighty one. About 21,000,000 trees are produced each year; 87 per cent are produced on private forest land; about a million are harvested on the national forests. About 100,000 acres of woodland are devoted solely to growth of Christmas trees.

The World Today— Probe to Find Who's Lying

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (P)—Who's lying? Finding the answer will be the main task of the Senate subcommittee which investigates the fight between the Army and Roy Cohn, chief counsel of his investigations subcommittee, on the other.

But whether the committee ever agrees on the answer may turn out to be as interesting as the investigation itself. The seven-man group has four Republicans, including McCarthy, and three Democrats.

Since the Wisconsin Republican says he will testify under oath, that means all the witnesses—including, no doubt, Cohn, Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, and John Adams, the Army's chief counsel—must also swear to tell the truth.

Committee agreement that a witness was lying would be the first step toward prosecution by the Justice Department and a jail term if the witness were convicted in federal court of perjury.

The dispute revolves around Army Pvt. G. David Schine, son of a wealthy hotel family and unpaid worker on McCarthy's staff until he was drafted.

1. The Army says McCarthy and Cohn interceded to get Schine a commission before he was drafted and afterwards tried to pressure the Army into giving him special treatment. McCarthy and Cohn deny this.

2. McCarthy says the Army tried to "blackmail" him into giving up his investigation of communism in the Army and produced memoranda charging the Army was holding Schine "hostage" to make McCarthy lay off. Stevens and Adams deny this.

McCarthy now says he will not only testify under oath but will act as a witness, or their lawyer, cross-examine him. This couldn't happen under the committee's present rules without McCarthy's agreement.

But, since he will be taking part in the investigation of himself and the Army as a member of the committee, he will be able, unless the rules are further changed, to wear two hats in the investigation, an extraordinary sight in the Capitol.

1. He'll testify as a witness, and stand cross-examination.

2. Then he will get up from the witness chair, walk around to his committee chair and cross-examine those who testify against him.

If Cohn acts as McCarthy's attorney in the hearing, the two men can sit together and advise

KILL WITH CARE

THE STORY: Private Detective Jim Dunn, who was in Colorado City for the wedding of Police Chief Mark Richards, has been aiding in investigating the murder that called Mark home from his honeymoon. Jim, Mark and Nancy Drover, daughter of Police Chief Otto Drover, who was murdered, have managed to get to the apartment of Barker Atwood, who admitted phoning the chief a short time before the murder. Mark asked, "What are you so afraid of, Mr. Atwood?"

you grow up into a fine young woman. His death is a terrible blow to me, Nancy. Forgive me, but I've been so distraught I have not offered you my deepest sympathy."

"You can save it," Nancy said. "I'm not sure yet whether or not I want it from you."

Atwood made no pretense of understanding her now. Some trace of color came to his pale face and lips. "That—that isn't fair! You have no right to talk to me like that."

"My father was killed. Murdered."

"That's what I mean," Atwood said frantically. "When he was alive, I was willing to take a chance. What chance is there now? What chance would I have?"

"You could have complete police protection," Nancy said. Jim shifted in his chair. He thought that the first false move Nancy had made.

Atwood pounced on the suggestion. "Police protection! Could Otto protect himself? No. He couldn't even save himself, and you talk to me about police protection!"

"He was coming to see you," Nancy went on. "He was coming to see you, because you wanted his help. He was killed on his way."

"You can't be sure of that, Nancy."

"We're positive," Nancy said implacably. "You know Dad's mannerisms, how he doodled when he talked on the phone. He was one of our few friends. He was killed on his way to help you. Now, I want your help in finding who murdered him!"

The banker's words now were a cry of agony. "But I want to live, Nancy girl! I haven't too much time left, and I want to live."

"Of course I want a friend of Otto's. You know that. We were boys together. I—I watched week, not only in public but before television cameras. This seems unlikely."

First the staff will have to be assembled, evidence and information gathered, and some prospective witnesses questioned before the hearing opens. Late next week could begin late next week.

Mrs. Abbott Hostess To Art-Charity Club

Mrs. Ida Mae Abbott, 1416 West Morgan, who is chairman of the State Historical Society of the Missouri Association of Colored Women, entertained at her home on Monday, March 8, at which time a very interesting program was presented.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Christine Richards, who spoke on the dedication of the George Washington Carver Memorial in Diamond, Mo.

Those who participated on the program were: Mrs. Emmet Lindsey, mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. C. H. Gooch, who gave the welcome.

Chorus by the Tigarett Club were followed by the quartette of the Rose-a-Munda Club. Solos were sung by B. B. Cox and Mrs. Frances Robinson and Mrs. J. Y. Jackson gave a reading. An instrumental duet was played by Mrs. Lucille Martin and Miss Mayme White.

Pictures were taken by Mrs. Mayme White after which refreshments were served to 85 people in attendance.

Green Ridge Students Win High Music Ratings

and looked at the girl for a long time. His body stiffened gradually, gave up the jellylike evidence of extreme terror.

"I hope you'll be able to forgive me, Nancy! Not a pretty spectacle is it? An old man terrified by death. The fear of death. And Otto—gone."

Nancy's face relaxed. She put her arm around old Atwood's narrow shoulders.

"It'll be all right, Uncle Pete."

Peter Atwood smiled up at her. "Thank you, my dear. And now—of course I'll tell you."

Atwood spoke crisply and to the point. "Yesterday morning I received the letter in the early mail at the bank. It was marked personal, and had a return address. A. Aaberg, Colorado City."

"The letter told me to get $4000 in small bills ready, to hold them for future developments and instructions. A threat was made. I was told not to contact the police, and to burn the letter."

Richards muttered under his breath.

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Aaberg," Atwood went on. "He is a good customer of the bank's. A quiet man, with an excellent credit rating. I telephoned him at once—his is the first name in the phone directory."

I tried to sound him out without raising his suspicions. A trace of a smile touched the banker's thin lips. "After our phone conversation, I believe Mr. Aaberg was of the opinion I had become unhungry."

"My impulse, of course, was to throw the letter away and disregard it entirely. A man in my position is not accustomed to getting threatening letters. Something kept me from doing so. I got in touch with Otto Drover. I read the letter to him over the phone. He said he was going to the wedding, and would leave the reception afterward as soon as possible. He would come to the bank and pick up the letter."

St. Pat's Day Evacuation Day In 1776

BOSTON — The Continentals rolled out the barrels, but their unwelcome guests decline to come to the party.

Instead, Gen. Sir William Howe, with His Majesty's occupation forces and about a thousand Tories, hastily boarded ships and ignominiously sailed for Halifax.

That was in 1776, when March 17 achieved historic significance in Boston as Evacuation Day.

Since then, visitors often have been puzzled by the eagerness with which a large segment of the population greets the date. Perhaps ancestry is the reason it celebrates with equal enthusiasm the anniversary of Washington's eviction of the British and a day dedicated to St. Patrick, who rid Ireland of snakes.

But to get back to the barrels, and hogsheads too. They were the Continentals' not-too-secret weapons, designed not by a military genius, but by a local merchant, William Davis.

Filled with earth and stone, they were mounted on Dorchester Heights, ready to be rolled down the steep slope against any attacking force. Guns mounted on the heights made the harbor untenable to the British fleet and with them Washington could have leveled the city if he chose, which he did not.

But it was the barrels and hogsheads which dissuaded the British from attempting to take the fortification. "They would have destroyed all order and broken up the ranks," the British commander decided.

The guns, captured from British Lake Champlain, by Gen. Ethan Allen and his Green Mountain Boys, had been brought over ice and snow by Gen. Henry Knox, in private life a Boston bookseller. They were employed in a single night.

"The rebels," said Gen. Howe next morning, "have done more in one night than my whole army could do in a month."

He then entered an agreement with Washington under which the British were permitted to depart, unscathed if Howe did not burn the town.

The British, during their stay in Boston, converted the Old South Church into a riding academy for exhibitions of horsemanship by their cavalry; the Old North Meeting House and some others were burned for fuel and some were used as barracks.

Women showed their resentment through extreme sacrifice — by forming anti-tea-drinking societies, a blow which hurt the British cruelly in their taxes.

During the days immediately preceding evacuation, there was widespread looting, ably directed by a New York Tory, Creen Bush, imported for the project.

Howe returned to the Colonies later, but he pointedly shunned

Jack Benny May Give Up His Radio Show, Maybe Next Year

HOLLYWOOD — Filmland follows—

Now that he has married off his daughter, Jack Benny is getting back to work to pay off the wedding bills. (I think the Benny vault can handle them, however.)

Benny, one of the few big stars to keep up with radio, says he might give up his radio show next season. "I like my present rate of doing a TV show every three weeks, he told me. But my sponsor wants me to do more. If I do, I don't see how I can continue in radio."

This summer Jack plans to take his vaudeville show to the Pacific Northwest. He has also considered doing "Seven Year Itch" on the stage. "I might do it at LaJolla or some place like that," he observed. "It's a demanding role and would require me to be onstage all the time. It presents a chal-

Stover High Has 3 New Members Of Honor Group

The third quarter of the school term at Stover High School has drawn to a close and three more students have had their names added to the honor roll of the Honor "S" Chapter of the National Honor Society.

The initiation ceremony for Loretta Capps, Norma Lemler and Larry Bauer was held in the new school building last Friday evening.

During the school day on Friday, the initiates were required to undergo certain restrictions in regard to costume and conduct. All three students were required to wear a burlap sack and carry a brick from one classroom to another. The girls wore oversize hats, the boys wore lipstick, and none of them was allowed to talk except to their teachers.

The formal initiation ceremony was followed by games and a square dance session. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Those in attendance were: Mary Case, Myrna Geary, Loretta Capps, Helen Marriott, Mavis Coit, Carol Wadick, Glenda Ornes, Joan Stucker, Loren Hughes, Martin Kennedy, Phillip Small, Milton Schroeder, J. M. Miles, Larry Bauer, and David Wilson, sponsor.

That "cursed place" Boston, and went on to New York, Concord, Lexington, and Bunker Hill (actually Breed's Hill) still riddled and the war never was resumed in Massachusetts.

The watchword March 17, 1776, on Dorchester Heights was "Saint Patrick."

Sedalia Public Library Offers Career Guides

Anne Heywood has come to the rescue for those who are unhappy in their present jobs. "Be Yourself," now available at the Sedalia Public Library, is a lively intelligent guide to living 24 hours a day with yourself.

It is not just a book, it is a way of life. Since each situation and individual problem is different, there is no cut and dried answer to the question "What should I do about it?" There is a short-cut to Utopia, but Anne Heywood helps you to help yourself to be successful and helps you to think for yourself and not to rely on the sometimes false judgment of others. She gives you confidence in yourself. You, the most important mortal person.

The housewife who bemoans the fact that her husband and children don't appreciate her, who is tired of the daily routine, will find Miss Heywood's other book, entitled, "There Is a Right Job for Every Woman," a boon. Those distasteful jobs just don't have to be done today. On the other hand, if there are particular jobs they do enjoy, take more time with them.

There are quite a few women who think they are too old to start over. Miss Heywood has an answer for them, too. Don't overlook the fact that they have it all over the younger person in experience and wisdom. If they have a hobby, let that come to the rescue. If they don't have a hobby, they may have one particular interest or talent. Why not put those ideas or talents into a project for profit?

"There Is a Right Job for Every Woman" also includes a helpful Basic Interests Test and a Housewives' Career Guide which have been devised to determine what general field you find most attractive.

To sum up, if you are a woman who is bored in your present atmosphere and are at a loss as to what to do about it, the recommended book for you is "There Is a Right Job for Every Woman." If you are one of the many people, man or woman, who struggle eight hours a day, five days a week at a job you hate, to make enough money to do the things you like, then are too tired to do these things, then for your own sake, read "Be Yourself," by Anne Heywood.

Injury List Of Baseball Is Growing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's spring training season is little more than two weeks old but the list of injuries appears to be the longest in years—and still growing.

Although most of the attention has been centered on the serious injuries suffered by Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and the Milwaukee Braves' Bobby Thomson, an Associated Press survey showed today that more than 200 other athletes have been damaged in one mishap or another. Hardly a club has escaped.

Three players were added to the injured roster yesterday. Harvey Kuenn, the Detroit Tigers shortstop who won American League Rookie of the Year honors in 1953, suffered a badly bruised left wrist at Al Lang Field here when he threw up his arm to protect his head against a close pitch thrown by Harry Byrd of the New York Yankees. A few innings earlier the Yankee Hank Bauer had hit Kuenn in the head with a hard grounder. Both will be out several days.

The injury epidemic here started Saturday when Thomson fractured his ankle sliding into second base. He'll be out two or three months. The next day Bill Miller, Yankee left-hander, was hit on his pitching hand by a line drive for his second injury of the season. On Monday it was Ken Raffensberger, veteran Cincinnati Redlegs southpaw, who sprained his right ankle when he stepped on a loose ball in the outfield.

Also injured yesterday was center fielder Bill Bruton of Milwaukee, who also sprained his ankle after stepping into a hole in the outfield at Tampa. He hurt the same ankle March 7 sliding.

Jim Piersall of the Red Sox also has been injured twice. His latest came Monday when he bruised his hip crashing into a wall while going after a long fly. Actually, the injury jinx got in its firsticks even before Williams fractured his left collarbone after only 18 minutes of practice March 1, the official opening day of spring training.

The St. Louis Cardinals, running a pretraining session at Deland, Fla., so Manager Eddie Stanky could apprise his newcomers, thought twice about the project after two $100,000 purchases were injured. First, shortstop Alex Grammas strained a muscle in his throwing arm, then Tom Alston, a new base candidate, came up with a bad back.

Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators was felled by a line drive Feb. 27 but suffered no ill effects. Dick Kryhoski, Baltimore Orioles first baseman, was not so lucky when he was hit on the left wrist by a pitched ball against the New York Giants Monday. X-rays disclosed a fracture, which will keep him out of action four to six weeks.

Ed Fitzgerald, Washington catcher, was sidelined two weeks after a foul tip fractured the index finger of his right hand.

The Chicago White Sox got most of their misery March 11 when Jim Rivera bruised his chest and leg running into a wall. Carl Sawatsky was hit by a pitched ball and Johnny Grodzin came down with appendicitis. The first two were idle only a few days, but Grodzin's sickness meant a month on the sidelines. Other players injured included Ernie Banks and Gene Baker, the Chicago Cubs shortstop-second base combination; Ted Kazanski, Philly shortstop; Howie Judson, Cincinnati pitcher; Jerry Jacobs, Baltimore rookie infielder; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn jack of all trades despite his chronic injured knee; Walter Linder, rookie Milwaukee catcher; Bob Trice, Athletics' rookie right-hander; Dave Koslo, New York Giants left-hander; and Ken Lehman, Brooklyn left-hander.

Cardinals Fly To Begin Play In Florida Loop

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals fly back to Florida, their unusual western invasion an artistic success and the financial aspects questionable. Aggressive Eddie Stanky, the Cardinal manager, could let the front office worry, whether the cross-country jaunt—6,100 or so air miles round trip—made or lost money.

The main thing with Stanky was that his team clubbed out four straight victories over its National League rivals, the Chicago Cubs, and scored successive hits with fine crowds in Los Angeles, Fresno, where St. Louis has a farm club in California, and in Mesa, training site of the Cubs.

The two-game weekend series at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles attracted 12,335 and 19,484 fans. At Fresno 4,813 packed the park, and here yesterday attendance overflowed into left and right fields and the count was 4,221 for a four-game total of 40,833.

This was the first appearance of a Cardinal team in the Far West in some 27 years. Forty-two men were in uniform, plus a few club officials.

Traveling secretary Leo Ward said the club would break even if it drew 40,000 fans on the swing. Plane fare was said to have cost between $16,000 and $20,000.

There was general talk that perhaps the trip was a beer promotion. But the critics were confounded when the top man, August A. Busch Jr., did not make the trip. Anheuser-Busch, the brewery, owns the Cardinals.

Sports Roundup—Grimm Believes His Braves Can Win Without Thomson

By GAYLE TALBOT

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Considering the extent of their loss, Manager Charlie Grimm and owner Lou Perini of the Milwaukee Braves are taking Bobby Thomson's broken ankle with greater calm than might have been expected. They say it was tough luck, yes, but neither concedes that the temporary loss of their new outfield star is a body blow to their chances of beating Brooklyn out in the National League race.

The bench strength added by the club since last season will make it possible for him to stay in the battle for the six weeks he expects to be without the services of the Flying Scot, Grimm firmly believes.

LaSalle Coach Still Runs His Winning Team

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Ken Loeffler of LaSalle's Explorers noted reports from Kansas City today, saying All-American Tom Gola would call defensive signals in the NCAA basketball tournament at Kansas City Friday. Loeffler's reply was simple: "I'm still running the club."

"Gola does everything well and he's the greatest I've ever seen, but he does it at my direction," the coach said in that quiet stage voice he saves for such occasions. "That's the secret of our winning club. Why I've been winning for five years and I was winning before they ever heard of Gola," Loeffler warmed up.

"You know those people out in Kansas City are used to Phog Allen (Kansas University coach) falling all over (Clyde) Lovellette and passing out that dribble about how he ran the club and so on. But we don't operate that way. We don't operate a system where one man gets the red carpet rolled out for him when he comes out of the ball game. Gola or anybody else gets the same treatment and they'll get the same treatment."

Cubs Fail Without Pitching Strength

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—If the Chicago Cubs have any deep pitching strength, it hasn't become apparent in 10 exhibition games played to date.

Cub hurlers have yielded 163 runs in the 10 games—only one of which was won by the Chicago club.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who won their fourth straight from the Cubs yesterday, 5-1, scored 39 of the total. Seven of them came in the seventh inning yesterday, off Bubba Church.

Cold No Bar To Hot Win Mark of Bums

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're having a cold wave in normally sunny Florida these days, but that isn't preventing the slow-starting Brooklyn Dodgers from keeping their not winning streak going.

The Dodgers now have won seven straight exhibition games after dropping their first three. Five of the victories have been against American League clubs, and the Brooks, who are looking forward to another meeting with the New York Yankees next fall, are hoping this is an indication of things to come.

While members of the Chamber of Commerce went around smashing thermometers, Walter Alston's men edged the Washington Senators 3-2 yesterday before some 5,000 top-coated spectators. Brooklyn took a three-run lead in the third inning and that was enough to offset a two-run rally by the Nats in the seventh.

Still, the Dodger players are having their troubles and they claim it's all because of the weather.

Outfielder Carl Furillo, the National League's batting champion last year isn't swinging anything like his powerful self and realized, "I just can't seem to get loose."

He moaned, "My back and shoulders are tighter than a drum. When is it gonna warm up?"

Jackie Robinson, who sat out the last two games with a stiff knee, isn't taking any chances on aggravating the condition during the cold spell.

"This weather is brutal," he said. "How can you get ready?"

Washington Manager Bucky Harris also had some nasty things to say about it. His Senators have lost seven games in a row.

"I've been coming down here since 1920 and I've never seen anything like this weather," he said. "We're not going to look good until our front-line pitchers get in shape. They have to get that warm weather now. You can't expect it on the trip North."

The Pittsburgh Pirates, aided by Hal Rice's fifth-inning homer, defeated the Boston Red Sox 2-1 before only 582 chilled spectators.

Ticked, their only tally in the first on a triple by Jackie Jensen and a single by George Kell.

Only 500 fans saw the Cincinnati Redlegs pound out an 8-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Jim Greengrass' three-run homer in the seventh was the difference.

Held to two runs in six innings by Warren Spahn, the Chicago White Sox scored three times in each of the seventh and eighth frames to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 8-3. Nellie Fox slammed a three-run homer for the Chicks.

The Detroit Tigers whipped the New York Yankees 5-3 in a game marked by an injury to the Tigers' young shortstop Harvey Kuenn.

He suffered a badly bruised wrist when hit by a pitch thrown by the Yankees' Harry Byrd in the fifth inning. The Bengals sealed the victory with three runs in the ninth off lefty Art Schallack.

Bobby Young's two-run homer in the eighth enabled the Baltimore Orioles to outslug the Cleveland Indians 9-8. Howard Fox, a National League castoff, pitched the first five innings for the Orioles and left the game ahead 7-3.

The St. Louis Cardinals belted Bubba Church for seven runs in the third to score their fourth straight triumph over the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Besides Kuenn, outfielder Bill Bruton of Milwaukee and Baltimore first baseman Dick Kryhoski were added to the ever-growing list of training casualties.

The White Sox "B" team nipped the Cincinnati scrubs 3-2.

Bruton came down with a sprained ankle when he stepped into an outfield hole. Kryhoski sustained a broken left wrist in Sunday's game against the giants.

X-rays, revealed. He is expected to be out from four to six weeks.

Just before the extent of Kryhoski's injury was disclosed, the Orioles announced they had purchased first baseman Eddie Waitkus from the Phillies.

Waitkus was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

"I don't think we'd come up with a right fielder who could throw as well as Jackie. Maybe we've got a better one," enthused Harris yesterday despite the Senators' 3-2 loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bucky has found Scull good in most departments, too, except one he can readily forgive: the outfielder can't speak English. Plans are to have a Spanish-speaking Howard University teacher help him when he gets to Washington.

Babe Ruth League Committees Named For 1954 Season

The Babe Ruth League committees were announced Tuesday night by E. C. Kendle Jr., president, at a meeting held at the B. P. O. Elks Club.

Woodrow Garrison was named chairman of the grounds and Equipment committee, with the following members: Hollis Hickman, Glenn E. Lower, Archie Hughes and Luke Hughes.

Publicity committee is headed by Paul Mines, Forrest Benner and Bill Mateja.

Legal counsel, James E. Durley. The committee checked over more than 125 applications of boys from 12 years through 16 desiring to play in the Babe Ruth league.

The problem of sponsoring organizations is now being discussed and such groups are being sought to take over teams. There are enough boys at the present time to field eight teams.

Cage Coaches Meet to Rule On Game Rules

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The men who teach basketball in the nation's colleges assemble here today and the No. 1 problem on their schedule is what to do about the rules of the game.

Th three-day annual convention of the National Basketball Coaches' Association formally opens tomorrow. But there is a dinner tonight and most of the 250 coaches will be checking in by nightfall.

The coaches don't make the rules. They only make suggestions to the national rules committee. This body also has a meeting here, starting Sunday.

Many of the coaches don't like the present rules on fouling and they are convinced the paying customers don't like them either.

The coaches' convention coincides as usual with the final round of four in the national collegiate basketball championships. The semifinal games will be played Friday with Bradley against Southern California in the first, and LaSalle against Penn State in the nightcap. The final, at 9 p. m. (CST) Saturday, will be televised locally and nationally by NBC.

SAFB Jet Bombers Beat Marshall Stars

The Jet Bombers basketball team from the Sedalia Air Force Base, led by John B. Franklin with 34 points defeated the Marshall Stars 72-68, Tuesday on the Hubbard High School court.

The Stars led the Bombers 31 to 26 at the half but the AFB men came back with a fast moving attack that completely puzzled the Marshall team.

The high scoring individual in the contest was Franklin with 34 points for the winners. He was followed in the scoring department by William with 17 and Scott with 10.

Any team desiring games with the Bombers can contact Sgt. John Franklin at phone 6700, extension 321 or 322.

Cuban Rookie Takes Jackie Jensen's Spot

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A rookie Cuban outfielder, Angel Scull, is making Washington Senators' Manager Bucky Harris notice less and less the vacancy left when Jackie Jensen was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

"I don't think we'd come up with a right fielder who could throw as well as Jackie. Maybe we've got a better one," enthused Harris yesterday despite the Senators' 3-2 loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mundt Tossed Into Middle Of Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt, a balding, jovial, easy-talking South Dakota Republican, suddenly finds himself cast in a key role in the swirling controversy between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Army officials.

No newcomer to congressional probes, Mundt has stepped into the temporary chairmanship of the Senate investigations subcommittee while it tries to dig out the facts in the dispute.

An Army report has accused McCarthy and Subcommittee Counsel Roy Cohn of applying pressure to get special treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid consultant to the group. McCarthy and Cohn have heatedly denied the charges and in turn have accused Army officials of trying "blackmail" to avert probes of the Army.

The job of presiding over forthcoming hearings in the dispute fell to Mundt as second-ranking Republican on the subcommittee after the members agreed that McCarthy should temporarily yield his post as chairman.

Mundt, now 53 and rather chubby, is rounding out his first term in the Senate and will be up for re-election later this year. But before being elected to the Senate in 1948, he served for 10 years in the House.

An enthusiastic fisherman and a former schoolteacher and editor he was a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee and sometimes served as its chairman during its sensational Red hunts of bygone years.

An apt phrase maker, he reputedly coined the term "Pumpkin Papers" for the State Department documents which Whittaker Chambers had hidden in a pumpkin on his farm in nearby Maryland. These figured in the House group's probe of Alger Hiss, former State Department official now in a federal prison after his conviction for perjury.

In 1945 Mundt was one of the leaders in the successful fight to make the Un-American Activities Committee a regular standing committee of the House. Up to that time, it had been a temporary group for about 10 years.

With Vice President Richard Nixon, then a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Mundt co-authored a bill to require registration of the Communist Party and other subversive organizations. The legislation got through the House.

Although this measure was not passed by the Senate, Congress incorporated some of its main features in the internal security law enacted in 1950 over the veto of former President Truman.

As a House member, Mundt also was a co-sponsor of legislation setting up the Voice of America to broadcast American aims to radio listeners abroad. He had come back from a European trip convinced of the need to counteract Soviet propaganda.

On the Senate investigations subcommittee, he has been a close worker with McCarthy. However, he once described McCarthy last year as impetuous and "a little difficult to control."

Mundt likes to collect and smoke pipes. He also likes to puff on strong cigars. His favorite hobbies are hunting, fishing, writing and traveling.

He was a member of the South Dakota Game and Fish Commission before he came to Congress and at one time was a vice president of the Izaak Walton League.

He has had a long-time interest in public speaking. He was an organizer of the National Forensic League and served as its national president and as editor of its magazine, The Rostrom. He also has been a prolific writer for magazines.

Born in South Dakota, June 5, 1900, he was graduated from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and won a master's degree from Columbia University in New York.

WALLS ARE REFINISHED—This view toward the front of the second floor room of the American Legion Hall in Pilot Grove shows the clean effect gained by stripping the old plaster off the walls, replacing it with wallboard and repainting it in pale green and sunshine yellow.

STAIRWAY IS REMODELED—A completely new stairway was cut into the rear section of the building, a partition was installed beside the stairway and two rest rooms were added. A new hardwood floor will soon be laid down. Estimated cost is $1,500.

Pilot Grove Legion Remodels Meeting Hall's Upper Floor

PILOT GROVE LEGION—2-24th When American Legion Post No. 266, Pilot Grove, completes remodeling the second floor of its meeting hall, the members will have just cause for pride. Already it looks like a different place.

The job will have cost about $1,500, plus the donation of labor of its members. The main finishing work began about three months ago, although some preliminary work had been done previously.

The old plaster was torn off and replaced by wall board, the lower part painted pale green and the upper part sunshine yellow. Cab-inets and closets were added, along with two restrooms. The back end was rebuilt to contain a new staircase.

The members did the work after hours, usually on Tuesday and Friday nights. There is still much to do—odds and ends of trimming, the laying of a completely new hardwood floor and then a thorough clean-up.

Downstairs, where the auxiliary meets, the women have recently donated a set of venetian blinds for the window.

Soon Legion Commander A. J. Samer and Auxiliary President Mrs. Walter Lang will be able to show visitors how greatly improved is the meeting hall.

Yoshida Plans Visit To Europe and USA
TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida plans to visit England, France, West Germany, Italy, India and the United States this year.

Japan's ambassador to Great Britain, Shunichi Matsumoto, told of the plans after a visit to Yoshida's home today.

Matsumoto said Yoshida probably would leave for the United States in mid-May.

St. Pat's Dinner At Chinese Cafe
PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—The Passaic County Democratic Committee held a St. Patrick's Day celebration last night—at a Chinese restaurant.

But the tradition of the Irish holiday wasn't forgotten. All but two of the 100 members present ate corned beef and cabbage dinners.

Seek Radioactive Fish
TOKYO (AP)—Health authorities with Geiger counters probed Tokyo markets today for radioactive fish sold by a trawler which was showered with ash from an atomic weapons test in the Pacific Bikini Island area.

Most of the catch was recovered but the price of tuna tumbled 40 per cent.

Mail Is Late
SALEM, Va. (AP)—Mrs. R. L. Gibson received a car mailed 19 years before in the same city. An accompanying letter from the post office said it was stuck in a crevice of a machine which had been retired to the basement for some years. It was mailed December 18, 1934.

Early Missourians used a lot of imagination when they named their towns. Some were named after famous people, like Houston for Sam Houston, then president of the Republic of Texas. Other towns were named after other cities, like Chillicothe after Chillicothe, Ohio.

But a lot of Missouri's towns and hamlets weren't named after anything. They just were called the way the people felt, and the names stuck.

For instance, in Osage County, you'll find Freedom, Freeburg, Hope, Folk, and Welcome. Nothing but friendliness and kindness in people who name the places they live like those. Couldn't be. From where I sit, our forefathers did a good job in naming their towns and villages. Some used famous people's names, others followed after already established towns, while other names "just grew." Thing is, they were free to make their choice. Same way with drinking a glass of beer. You may prefer lemonade instead. That's your right, but other people are entitled to their preference, too.

US Offers Medical Aid To Burned Men

TOKYO (AP)—The United States today offered top-flight American medical aid to 23 Japanese fishermen burned and blistered by ashes from a supersecret U.S. test blast in the Pacific.

U.S. Ambassador John Allison also proposed a joint Japanese-American investigation of the March 1 incident in the Bikini-Eniwetok test region.

Only one of the 23 crewmen was considered in dangerous condition when their boat arrived Sunday but all had entered a hospital today. Three were added to the serious list but doctors said they expect all 25 will live.

The intensity of their burns—skin blackening and hair falling out—and their story of the blast stirred speculation that the March 1 test may have been a thermonuclear (probably hydrogen) explosion. The crewmen's reports indicate they were about 80 miles from the blast center.

The U.S. Embassy said a team of three American and three Japanese doctors associated with the atomic bomb casualty commission in the atom-bombed city of Hiroshima will treat the victims.

Allison's offer was the first official comment from the United States on the incident.

Kyodo news agency said the Japanese Foreign Office intends to take up the matter with the United States officials.

Japanese officials say they will ask compensation for the victims. In Washington, Rep. W. Sterling

State Crackdown May Get City Cops

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The deadline for 1954 auto license plates in New Mexico passed two weeks ago and state police have promised a crackdown on delinquent drivers. Albuquerqueans are wondering what's going to happen to the city police force, which still has 1953 plates on its cars.

City officials explain the delay is because they formerly rented the cars and are awaiting transfer of title to the city before buying new plates.

CITIES SERVICE

New 5-D

Premium

THE WORLD'S FIRST 5-DIMENSIONAL GASOLINE

For the first time... all the country's top premium features in one great gasoline, plus the exclusive Cities Service anti-carbon feature!

READ HOW AND WHY the five important features of Cities Service New 5-D Premium can provide the longest full-powered engine life in automotive history!... a cleaner engine than ever before! HOW AND WHY they give more power, more mileage, more downright motoring pleasure than ever before!

ANTI-CARBON... the first gasoline to reduce harmful carbon inside your car's engine! New 5-D actually introduces more oxygen into your car's combustion chamber... added oxygen that provides more complete burning of every drop of gasoline. Less waste matter. Less carbon! More complete engine power!

EXTRA-HIGH OCTANE... New 5-D's Extra-High Octane will help eliminate knock in the newer high compression engines as well as in older cars. It will mean a smoother, quieter engine, AND, an engine that is more powerful, far more economical to operate. Not just "high test," not just "premium," but Extra-High Octane!... That's 5-D.

ANTI-RUST... In actual tests, New 5-D Premium was proved to protect the entire fuel system against rust... eliminates rust that forms in gas tanks and fouls fuel lines and delicate carburetor mechanisms. You have a better running car, a better protected engine.

ANTI-STALLING... New 5-D Premium eliminates annoying stalling caused when ice forms on carburetor throttle valve, jamming it shut and cutting off the fuel supply. With New 5-D Premium, THAT ICING CANNOT HAPPEN.

UPPER-CYLINDER LUBRICANT... unlike old-fashioned lubricants, the New 5-D Upper-Cylinder Lubricant contains an anti-oxidant that prevents the lubricant from oxidizing (carbon) on vital engine parts. New 5-D lubricates vital engine parts as it powers your car!

Let Them Eat Venison
HARRISBURG (P)—The 110 inmates of the Dauphin county jail eat more venison than the majority of the state's half million deer hunters. The state game commission turned over five illegally killed deer to Warden John C. Seip. He said the prisoners were having their venison with potatoes and stewed tomatoes. Whatever remains is made into venisonburgers. Game commission policy is to turn over illegally killed game to state and county institutions. Democrat Class Ads Get Results

US Using 18 Types Guided Missiles Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official Defense Department catalogue of weapons shows the United States has at least 18 types of guided missiles in use, in production or under test.

This fact cropped up, probably unintentionally, when a department production report was included yesterday among a file of routine daily orders and communications given to newsmen. The report bore no secrecy label.

The report also identified several new types of jet planes, about which department public relations officers had been allowed to say little or nothing.

Among the guided missiles mentioned were these:

Antiaircraft: the Nike (Army); the Terrier and Talos, two models (Navy).

Bombardment (surface - to - surface): Corporal (Army); Matador and Shark (Air Force); Regulus (Navy).

Plane - to - ground attack: the Dove, Petrel, Gorgon V (Navy); the Rascal B63 (Air Force).

Plane - against plane: Falcon F98 (Air Force); three models of the Sparrow, the Oriole, the Sidewinder (Navy).

The Army's Nike, the report shows, has gone through seven stages of redesigning since the first model of the antiaircraft weapon was tested about two years ago. The new A7 model seemed to be what Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, referred to Monday when he told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the Army would extend its antiaircraft capability with a "markedly improved missile to be used with essentially the same ground equipment as the present Nike system."

In this connection, the report also indicated the Army will use the Terrier, an antiaircraft missile developed by the Navy. At another point, it suggested the Navy's missile would be launched, tracked and controlled by the system designed for the Nike.

Among new aircraft, the report listed the F104 Lockheed interceptor, the F105 Republic fighter-bomber and a version of the giant trooper carrier-cargo C124, powered by turbo-prop (propellers driven by jet turbines similar to the conventional jet "thrust" power plant).

Father, 89, Proud Of His 27th Child

LAKEWOOD, N. J. (AP)—Ephraim Horner, former farm hand who celebrates his 89th birthday in May is pleased as punch over the birth of his 27th child.

His 44-year-old wife gave birth to a daughter, Roseanna Alfreda, in Point Pleasant Hospital Monday. Mother and daughter are doing fine.

A great-grandfather, Horner commented:

"I've got too many, but I haven't got one to lose. I wouldn't take 10 million dollars for one."

He had 14 children by a first marriage. Now he and his present wife live with seven of their children in a four-room apartment here.

Green Bananas

Bananas are picked green because they will not ripen satisfactorily on the plants. They rot rather than ripen when left on the plants. Only when they are picked green does the starch in them turn to sugar and the fruit becomes desirable for food.

Smart Girls Polish Their Feet

SMOOTH THOSE HEELS ... Startlet Allyn McLerie puts creamed cotton on feet.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Today is the day to shine your feet.

Foot callouses should never be left until tomorrow, says Hollywood starlet Allyn McLerie. Allyn gives her feet the same daily attention she devotes to her face. Before a date she always relaxes with feet elevated for at least ten minutes. She knows that if her feet hurt on a date or shopping tour it will spoil the fun, because aching feet can make you hurt all over.

She smooths heels and toes with oil or lotion each night, watches that toenails are clipped when necessary, avoiding possible ingrown nails by cutting them straight across, never rounding corners. She exercises her legs to keep them relaxed and limber, selects polishes in jewel tones to make her toes twinkle in dancing sandals.

LEG LIMBERER ... Allyn prepares for a big date by doing the scissors exercise to shake kinks out of legs and feet, relaxes by kicking up her heels.

Bromfield's Wife Obtains Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor John Bromfield said she "should take up sports instead of motherhood." French actress Corinne Calvet testified in obtaining a divorce from him.

Bromfield didn't want any children, she said yesterday, adding: "He said I couldn't take a chance with my career and leave the screen for a year to have a baby."

He said I could have no children because I was not a competent housewife and therefore he was sure I would not make a capable mother. I was embarrassed because all our friends thought we should have children and I didn't know how to explain why we didn't."

The court awarded her alimony payments of 10 per cent of Bromfield's gross income if it totals more than $20,000 a year, her share of community property and restored her maiden name.

The couple married in Boulder City, Nev., in 1948.

Veep Says If Ike Was As Timid Before, Would Have Lost War

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Former Vice President Alben Barkley said last night if President Eisenhower "had been as timid in Europe as he has been in the White House, we would have lost World War II."

He told a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner that the President has been making great speeches but he "ought to have someone to implement his good words and noble sentiments."

Turning to the farm problem, he said, "When the farmers get a chance they will do it like politically what he has been doing to them economically."

Referring to Senators McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Jenner (R-Ind.), he said that "during the 1952 presidential campaign, the junior senator from Wisconsin and the junior senator from Indiana said the Democratic party was one of treason."

They committed a "premeditated falsehood," Barkley said. "I make no apology for the 20 years of Democratic rule."

Earliest known coin ever made was the stater, in Asia Minor, at about 700 B. C., by either the Lydians or Ionians.

Opposition In Pakistan Wins Election

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—Early results in the election for East Pakistan's Assembly today indicated a landslide victory for the opposition bloc which wants to slip loose the ties with the central government more than a thousand miles across India from here.

The five-party opposition front scored a major upset by defeating Chief Minister Nuzul Amin, 50, a leader of the ruling Moslem League party of which Pakistan's Prime Minister Mohammed Ali is top man. He was beaten by 6,607 votes by a young college student, Khaliz awaz Khan. A minister in Amin's Cabinet, Abdul Hamid, also was defeated.

The incomplete results gave the opposition 51 and the Moslem League party only 2 of the seats in the 309-member Assembly. Final results are not expected before March 25.

Leaders of the Moslem League anticipated that the voting trend in favor of the opposition group would continue as the counting progressed.

The setback to the league appeared to pose a serious threat to the national government, not only in East Pakistan but also in its control of the Pakistan National Assembly and perhaps even in the national government itself. Predictions were current that Prime Minister Ali would have to shake up his Cabinet.

The opposition demands that the government in Karachi control only East Pakistan's defense, foreign affairs and communications. The leaders charge the central government with treating the area, comprising 44 of Pakistan's 76 million people and producing the jute which provides the country with 70 per cent of its foreign exchange, "like some kind of colony."

Moslem League leaders have contended the opposition leaders really want East Pakistan to secede from Karachi completely and join up with India.

Heir to Big Estate Sentenced to Home

BALTIMORE (AP)—The 16-year-old heir to a $100,000 estate was sentenced to three months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday for violating probation.

Atwood H. Taylor, son of a clergyman, was picked up while driving his late-model, high-powered car.

Last month he was convicted of stealing a 16-year-old car worth $95. He was given a three-month suspended sentence and put on probation for a year. One of the terms of the probation was that he not drive any automobile during that period.
